Know Nothing Of "Rake-Off" Says Council

Mayor and Aldermen Affirm Innocence of All Knowledge of Any $50,000 Commission in Esquimalt Deal

"Base and Cowardly" Statement Is Called

His Worship Charges Mr. Higgins With Intention to Poison Minds of Public Against Expropriation

THE City Council knows nothing of any $50,000 commission, it declared by resolution last night in answer to the statement of Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., before the Private Bills Committee of the House last Tuesday to the effect that a man had alleged that such a commission was being paid by the Esquimalt Waterworks Company in connection with the expropriation of its system by the city.

Seathing denunciation of Mr. Higgins' statement to the committee was made by members of the Council, who characterized it as "base and cowardly."

An attempt to "poison the minds of the public," Mayor Pender said.

Ald. Blanks, in a peremptory statement to call upon Messrs. J. A. Bayward and E. B. Halmel, president and secretary of the Esquimalt company, respectively, to "make their statements on oath, or by the word of a gentleman, that no commissions have been paid or have been promised to be paid to anybody, in the matter of the Esquimalt Waterworks expropriation."

Likewise the Council declined to invite Mr. Higgins to put any charge he can make against the conduct of the aldermanic board in writing so that basis might be had for a full investigation by the Council.

Affirm Innocence
With Ald. Cullen as a second, Ald. Marchant moved the formal resolution by which the Council affirmed its innocence.

Members of the City Council present at the session of the Private Bills Committee had been taken with great surprise by Mr. Higgins' statement, Ald. Marchant declared. There had been "sharp questioning" but Mr. Higgins had refused to name his alleged informant.

Lash for Sellers Of Narcotic Drugs

Motion to This Effect Will Again Be Introduced Before B.C. Legislature

In view of the general approval given last year by the members of the Legislature and the public at large to the British Columbia Narcotic Act, introduced by Major Gus Lyons, fourth member for Victoria, calling for the use of the lash in addition to ordinary penalties to those convicted of the sale of narcotic drugs, it will be again introduced at the present session.

Following its unanimous endorsement by the House last year, the motion was forwarded to the Secretary of State for Canada, but no action has been taken in connection with it by the Dominion Parliament, although a letter that a relaxation of its terms will result in its incorporation into Dominion law.

The motion provided that any person convicted of selling, giving away or distributing any drug, as defined in the Opium and Narcotic Act, to any person without first obtaining a licence from the Minister presiding over the Department of Health, shall, in the discretion of the judge, be liable to be whipped in addition to the penalties already provided by the Act.

Father Pierre Albert Urique, of the Sulpician Fathers, former president of the Grand Seminary of Montreal and dean of the faculty of theology at the University of Montreal. ## Queen's Death Clouds Social Life of London

Americans Call Off Dinner and Ball as Mark of Respect—World-Wide Condolences Received

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Thanksgiving dinner and ball of the American Society of London, an event of many years' standing, has been cancelled as a mark of respect for the late Queen Mother Alexandra. The turkey and pumpkins, specially imported for the dinner, and reasonable quantities of delicacies will be distributed to the hospital.

This is only one of a hundred similar changes in public events caused by the popular desire to pay tribute to the passing of the Queen. The Foreign Office tonight issued another sheet of world-wide condolences.

King Asks No Publicity

According to the requests of the King, who wishes to avoid crowds when he arrives Thursday from Sandringham with his mother's body, the newspapers are not publishing the time of his arrival in London or the route of the King and Queen from the station to Buckingham Palace, or that of the funeral cortege from the station to the Chapel Royal of St. James. Palace, where Alexandra's body will lie until taken to Westminster Abbey Friday morning for the funeral.

Official announcement is made that the Locarno treaties will be signed December 1, but that all social functions connected with it will be cancelled.

Royalty at Funeral

LONDON, Nov. 23.—At least three kings and three queens from foreign countries will attend the funeral of Queen Alexandra, on Friday, and the Queen of Nepal, India's only reigning princess, who is visiting in England, will also be present. The King of Norway and Denmark have signified their intention of coming, while the queens of Spain and Norway are already here.

Three-Hour Murder Trial Sets Record in Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—The shortest murder trial in the annals of Montreal courts was completed here today when Joseph Mauro, of Montreal, was sentenced to hang on February 19, 1926, for the murder of Donald Carragher, who was fatally shot when Mauro with a companion held up the Iroquois Club, in the East End of the city, on Nov. 12. Mauro's trial, from the empanelling of the jury until pronouncement of the death sentence, occupied but three hours.

"You Are Known," Says Klan Note But Mr. Uphill Doesn't Like It at All

YESTERDAY was an exceptionally dull day in the Legislature. The business of the day was dragging on so slowly that several of the members were yawning in their chairs. Hon. A. M. Manson was explaining the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, and recounting the history of the Dominion measure. Page boys fitted in and fro, passing silently over the thick carpet of the room. All was peace and harmony and the speaker wore a smile of happy contentment.

Then it happened. A page, envelope in hand, slipped across the chamber and stopped at the desk of Mr. Tom Uphill, Fernie Labor member, delivering a letter. The Fernie man lastly opened it—and jumped to his feet.

"Order!" he boomed. "Mr. Speaker, I'm up on a point of order." He waved the letter he had just received above his head. The Attorney-General stopped in his address and looked in amazement at the interrupter.

"Is this," shouted the Fernie member, "this Mr. Speaker, this from the K.K.K. Someone at the gate sent it to me. It's signed K.K.K. It reads, Mr. Speaker: 'You are known. Some white livered. I say, Mr. Speaker, some one has sent me this and it is not the first. They've been carrying on their touzouery at the hotel, too. It says I'm known. You, Mr. Speaker, I am known.'"

He had arisen, sitting down as suddenly as he had arisen, falling to explain just what his point of order was. House looked at him for a moment, then took up the business of the afternoon where he had interrupted it.

Former Minister To Run in Bagot

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—Hon. Andre Fauteux, a former Minister in the Meighen cabinet, was chosen as Conservative candidate to contest the constituency of Bagot in the Federal by-election to be held on December 7. He will be in a convention held at St. Liboire today.

Man of Hour Role Refused By M. Briand

Foreign Minister Shies at Becoming French Premier—Confers With Friends but Expected to Decline

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The solution of France's political crisis has again been deferred. M. Briand, who was asked by President Doumergue to form a new ministry, following the resignation of the Painleve cabinet Sunday, conferred with the various political leaders during the early evening, but at length requested the President to permit him to continue his efforts tomorrow.

The impression in political circles was that eventually he would decline. Among those with whom he was consulted after his meeting with the President of the Republic this evening were Paul Boncour, Louis Loucheur and Senator Doumergue, members of the debt commission. M. Briand, who more than once has been the man of the hour in the most acute situation of his country, told the President that he was extremely unwilling to head the new cabinet, although ready to help the country in any way out of the present complicated situation. But M. Doumergue prevailed upon him at least to consult with his friends and come to a final decision later.

Briand was looking into the political situation, and successfully appealed to the Chamber and Senate for authority for a new advance of 1,500,000,000 francs by the Bank of France to the state to take care of Continued on Page 2.

New Head Arrives For Esquimalt Base

Lieut.-Commander P. W. Nelles Will Take Over Control on December 1

The post of senior naval officer at the Esquimalt naval base will be taken over on December 1 by Lieut.-Commander P. W. Nelles. He comes here from Ottawa to succeed Commander Francis Hrabak, who is returning to England at the completion of his service in Canada.

Commander Hrabak will remain here for another week to assist his successor, who reached the city yesterday.

Lieut.-Commander Nelles entered the Royal Canadian Naval Academy in 1908, and from 1910 to 1912 was a midshipman on H.M.C.S. Niobe. In 1912 he entered the Royal Navy under the system of training of Canadian officers in His Majesty's ships, and for a year was attached to H.M.S. Dreadnought. In 1914 he went to H.M.S. Swiftsure, then on the North American and West Indian station.

Mr. Nelles was there when the war broke out, and he was engaged in the Atlantic patrol and similar services for the period until his transfer in 1917 to H.M.S. Antrim.

At Antrim he was called to duty as a naval aviator, and remained at the capital for five years. Since 1923 Commander Nelles has been with H.M.S. Caledon, in the second light cruiser squadron in the Atlantic, and at the Royal Naval Staff College at Greenwich, until the present appointment was offered to him.

Capri's Blue Grotto Proved Nature Work

Famous Sea Cavern Not Man's Doing, Scientist Shows—Ocean Floor Examined in Diving Cylinder

By ALMA REED
Secretary of the Hartman Deep Sea Expedition

(Copyright, 1925, in United States and Canada, by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

NAPLES, Nov. 23.—Submarine photographs, made by Dr. Hans Hartman, of New York, prove that the famous Blue Grotto of Capri is a natural phenomenon, and not an artificial work of the master-builders of ancient times. The latter theory was recently advanced by certain scientists as a result of their measurements of the remarkable symmetry of some of the grotto's arches and columns.

Submarine researches, aiming to prove or disprove this theory, were the first task undertaken by Dr. Hartman as a test of his deep-sea diving apparatus, with which he hopes to penetrate ocean depths hitherto unknown to man.

The Capri photographs show that the submerged foundations of the arches and pillars are unquestionably a natural formation, thus giving a final answer to a long and bitter scientific controversy.

The unique symmetry which marks the upper parts of the grotto structure is continued in the subaqueous sections of the cave, but to a less degree than above, and without any traces of human handwork thereon.

Capri People Hostile
The work of the American scientific expedition was several times threatened with disaster on account of the hostile attitude of the people of Capri, who were fearful that Dr. Hartman's discoveries would destroy their present prosperity. The district depends for its living on the constant stream of tourists visiting the grotto to view the marvelous incandescent effects of the sunlight as it filters through the water of the archway. The native population felt that tourists would cease their visits if the grotto proved to be an artificial structure.

The expedition will next week proceed to the feet of its deep-sea explorations, near the famous Villa Jovis of Emperor Tiberius, where it is believed many ancient treasures were buried into the sea to save them from invaders.

For the Capri explorations, the Hartman apparatus was hoisted on board the regular steamer which carries the daily service between Naples and Capri. Dr. Hartman lowered the apparatus, containing his mechanic, for the first tests, and later accompanied the mechanic in the diving cylinder, which worked perfectly to depths of about 200 feet.

Two Feared Dead In Air Accident

Plane Forced Down in Sea—Two of Crew Swim Safely to Shore

HONOLULU, Nov. 23.—Two army officers were believed drowned today when a biplane, fitted with the planing of window frames and altogether utterly at variance with the general architectural design of the main buildings to which they are attached, in material, appearance and quality.

Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, said that the design of the new planing was a room for the Lands Department and two rooms and a store-room for the Treasury Department. He admitted that they did not conform to the general architectural lines or plan of the Parliament Buildings, but the reason for the change was conservation of space.

He did not think it was necessary to erect walls three feet thick, half granite and half brickwork, which would only be required to carry their own weight, when twelve-inch hollow tiles would do the work. If the additions had been built according to the design and material of the main buildings, the cost for the planing would have been $2,200 more, or about double what the Treasury Department would have paid for the planing.

Both additions had been built according to plans prepared by the supervising architect and the architect who designed and supervised the building of the main buildings had not been consulted. All the work had been done by departmental tradesmen, except roofing and sheet-metal work.

No Naval Curtailment Planned by Admiralty

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The British Government does not contemplate any reduction in its naval construction programme, W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, stated today in the House of Commons today. This was in reply to a question as to whether the reported reductions in the naval estimates of the Japanese Government gave hope of a curtailment of the British programme.

Three Burn to Death In Fire-Swept Home

Father and Two Children Die in Flames—Mother and Infant Escape

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Floyd Camp, thirty-six, his son Douglas, four, and daughter Elizabeth, seven, were burned to death here shortly before midnight tonight, when they were trapped in their flame-swept home.

Mrs. Camp, thirty-four, and infant child escaped.

A large still, found on a blazing oil stove in the ruins of the little cottage, offered grim evidence of the cause of the tragedy. Fire officials declared the still either exploded or ran over.

New Additions to Buildings Criticized

Economy Studied in Construction at Lands Department, Explains Minister

Considerable criticism of various new additions to the Parliament Buildings have been heard since the opening of the present session of the Legislature and yesterday answers were brought down to questions concerning the buildings filed by Mr. H. Despard Twigg, third member for Victoria.

The buildings under criticism are small additions whose outer walls are of grey stone, fitted with the planing of window frames and altogether utterly at variance with the general architectural design of the main buildings to which they are attached, in material, appearance and quality.

Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, said that the design of the new planing was a room for the Lands Department and two rooms and a store-room for the Treasury Department. ## Mr. Meighen Soon To Become Premier

Will Be Prime Minister Six Months After House Meets, Says Senator

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—"Mr. Meighen will be Prime Minister of Canada within six months after Parliament meets," declared Senator W. H. Sharpe, of Winnipeg, Conservative whip in the Senate, who is the guest of Senator R. J. Crowe, of Vancouver.

The general elections showed that the country as a whole was desirous of a change," said Mr. Sharpe, "and all the jockeying of Mackenzie King cannot prevent the inevitable result. The Government is dying. Mr. King is very much concerned whether he can secure a vote of confidence. Even if he does, he will not be able to elect his ministers. Within six months Mr. Meighen will be Premier."

Senator Sharpe will go to Victoria for a few days and will leave Vancouver for the East in a week.

Radium Worth $800,000 Found In Sewer After Six Weeks' Search

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—Six weeks' patient search has resulted in the finding in a sewer pipe of a tiny tube containing $800,000 worth of radium, which disappeared from a hospital here.

Today the detectors led him to a nine-inch pipe in a sewer tunnel. The radium tube was found within two inches of a mark he made on the pipe.

Soviet Moscow Hurls Hard Words at League Denying Talk of Entry

Would Enter Real International Organization, Declares M. Litvinoff, But Present Association Does Not Fill Bill—Hopes and Expectations Unfulfilled—Rights of Small Nations Not Protected

MOSCOW, Nov. 23.—Refuting reports from abroad that Russia had changed her attitude toward the League of Nations, M. Litvinoff, acting Foreign Minister, said today in a carefully prepared official statement that Soviet Russia firmly intended in the future, as in the past, to stand aloof from the League of Nations and similar organizations.

The Locarno security treaties, he added, would not alter the Soviet foreign policy, nor would the fact that Germany, a conquered and weak nation from a military standpoint, was entering the League, alter the situation.

Soviet Russia, said M. Litvinoff, was prepared to enter any real international organization in which all nations could settle in a friendly and peaceful way misunderstandings arising between them.

But the League had not to the slightest degree fulfilled hopes and expectations.

Not only had it failed to preserve the rights of small nations, he asserted, but it had failed to take serious steps to solve the problem of disarmament, a problem which interested Soviet Russia particularly.

Reichstag Hears Impressive Plea For Peace Pact

Treaty Bound to Aid Germany, Says Chancellor Luthar—Neighbors Now Converted Into Allies

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Chancellor Luthar defended the Government's acceptance of the Locarno treaties in an impressive speech in the Reichstag today and requested ratification of the treaties on the ground that the restoration and conservation of genuine peace in Europe was bound to redound to the political and economic advantage of Germany.

His speech dealt in detail with the significance of the Security Pact and arbitration treaties initiated at Locarno, which, he stated, represented in the last analysis an amplification of the covenant of the League of Nations.

The Chancellor was given a respectful hearing by all parties, and the parliamentary decorum which prevailed was in strange contrast to the partisan controversies which have been waged over the Locarno treaties since the German delegates returned from Switzerland.

Adoption Assured
The adoption of the treaties next Friday by an overwhelming majority appears definitely assured.

Chancellor Luthar informed the Reichstag that the present cabinet would resign after the treaties have been signed at Locarno, making way for an enlarged coalition government, which he said would pledge automatically to pursue the policies inaugurated with the adoption of the Locarno treaties.

Germany's inherent potentialities can only be developed along peaceful lines," he said. "And her presence in the League of Nations will afford her added opportunities for furthering the interests of her people within and without her borders."

Thanks Entry Into League War
He denied that Germany's entry into the League signified a weakening of her political prestige and expressed the conviction that the reasons for joining the League had become more urgent during the last year.

He said he considered conclusion of the Security Pact of paramount importance to the political future of Europe.

"France, Belgium, Italy and Great Britain formerly proposed a united front against Germany," he said. "Now all five nations constitute a common community, bound by a treaty which is founded on complete equality. Thus a security pact aimed against Germany, which was under serious consideration by these other four

Finding Remains May Solve a Missing Man Mystery at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—The body of a man, badly decomposed, was found this forenoon in a clump of brush in Point Grey by R. Hodgins. A bottle marked "poison" was found about ten feet from the body by Chief Constable John Murdoch of Point Grey police.

Wearing apparel and general appearance of the remains convince the police that the disappearance of Alfred John Westlake, who left home in Vancouver, and has not been seen since August, has been solved.

Westlake wore gold-rimmed spectacles and rubber-soled shoes, dark grey suit, white collar and black tie, which items correspond to those on the body discovered today.

Lumber Firm Will Enlarge Harbor Wharf

Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company Asks City for Foreshore Rights on Waterfront Street End

Enlargement of its wharf for the accommodation of larger steamships is contemplated by the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company, the City Council was informed in a letter from M. J. D. Kinsinger, manager of the company, last night.

To facilitate this purpose, the company proposes to ask for foreshore rights on the land at the foot of Discovery Street, west of Wood Street, as well as on lots Nos. 134, 135 and 136.

The end of Discovery Street was of no particular value to the city, Mr. Kinsinger said, but would be of considerable use to the company.

"We believe the city could well afford to turn this street end over to us without making any charge for it," the letter went on. "The city is encouraging new industries to locate here, and no doubt also is interested in seeing industries already located here expand. With this addition to the wharf we hope to somewhat increase our output, and of course that would mean more employment."

City Engineer F. M. Preston said that he was "strongly of the opinion that the city should not give away any of its rights to street ends on the waterfront."

Mr. Hendray was asked to investigate the merits of the request and to report to the Council.

Refused by M. Briand

Immediate demands of the treasury. The Senate adopted M. Painleve's bill by 173 to 103 and the Chamber by a vote of 243 to 44. The National bloc and Socialists abstained.

The bill met with the strongest disapproval of the Nationalist bloc in the Chamber. The Nationalist spokesman declared that the bloc had not voted against it because of France's urgent need, but refused to assist the defunct Government to enact the measure in its financial proposals.

With the Socialists they obtained and it required two votes before a quorum could be obtained and the bill passed.

Strong Opposition

It was announced during the course of the debate that the additional advance would not involve the issue of more paper money, but bank officials made it known that if the Government wanted more advances it would be necessary to print more bills and raise the limit of circulation.

This aroused the liveliest opposition, especially from the Senate, but the alternative of the Government defaulting its obligations immediately due, secured enactment of the measure.

M. Painleve fell Sunday on the question of consolidation of national defence bonds. The Premier had stated plainly during the protracted debate Saturday night that unless his hands were supported, it would be "impossible to conserve longer the responsibility of the Government."

As soon as the result of the vote—278 to 275—was announced, the resignation of the cabinet was proclaimed.

Turnout in Chamber

The scene in the Chamber was dramatic. Hardly waiting for a formal declaration of the result, M. Painleve turned and without a word walked out of the room. He was followed at once by his ministers.

Turnout ceased for a minute and then, on the motion of M. Herriot, leader of the Radical Socialists and former Premier, adjournment was taken.

The consensus of opinion today was that the second Painleve cabinet fell like all other French cabinets during the last two years, a victim of the financial situation rather than of a political manoeuvre.

Premier Painleve, in a statement, replied to the rumors of an impending coup which have been circulating throughout the country for the last two weeks.

"Governments fall, but the republic stands," he said. "We are able to watch over her. Keep this in mind and if anyone believes that the moment has come, he is mistaken."

Council Expresses Sorrow at Death Of Queen Mother

THE Victoria City Council last evening adopted a resolution to forward through the proper channels an expression of sympathy with the British Royal Family in the death of the Queen Mother, and asked Mayor Hendray to transmit the expression of condolence.

Why we can't ask them to come before the City Council and express their views under oath, or by the word of a gentleman, that no commissions have been paid or are to be paid, is a matter of the expropriations.

"I don't think Mr. Higgins is cowardly. But he also said he wanted those asking for the private bill to come before the committee with clean hands. I think that's a dirtier crack than the other statement. One man might have got the $30,000, but we've all got hands."

He would vote against Ald. Marchant's resolution, Ald. Woodward declared. The time to reply to a charge was when a charge had been made. Mr. Frank Higgins might be a fool, but he was not such a fool as to make any charge of the nature people apparently thought he had made.

To the best of the Woodward's knowledge, Mr. Higgins had made no attack on his honor. He had said that the Esquimalt company was paying a commission, but that commission was improper or illegal.

A Fee, Perhaps?

There had been a lawyer employed in the negotiations. That man might have been paid a fee. Mr. Higgins had not said that any member of the City Council had accepted a commission and, for his part, he was not going to sign that resolution.

"I, too, consider that no charge has been made against us," declared Ald. Mara.

"Still," said Mayor Hendray, "the impression is abroad that a commission has been paid, and the public is asking who got it. Some of the people are hinting that the Mayor or some of the aldermen got some of it. This resolution should therefore be passed."

Poisonous

"I may say that I've sent Mr. Higgins a letter and have not even had the courtesy of a reply. I've known him for many years and I must say that I am both pained and surprised that he should so besmirch the character of a man in public life. He made that statement with the deliberate intention of poisoning the minds of the ratepayers so that they would vote against the expropriation if it should be put to a vote. It is a wonder that the Council to challenge Mr. Higgins to put any possible charge in writing so that it could be investigated."

When the resolution was put, Ald. Woodward alone voted against it. Ald. Shanks' resolution was then defeated, and Ald. Woodward failed to persuade the Council to challenge Mr. Higgins to put any possible charge in writing so that it could be investigated.

"What are money orders, pa?" "Your mother's letters to me when she's at the seashore, my son."

Member Thirsty For Information Regarding Beer

Mr. C. H. Davie Asks Government Questions About Foamy Beverage—$2,676,421 Paid Brewers

Inquiries Very Varied

Questions asked various departmental heads in the Legislature yesterday almost broke the record in point of number and length, and covered all sorts of subjects which come within the jurisdiction of the Government offices. At least half a dozen sets of questions were asked about beer, and in most cases answers were given. Additional answers will be given as soon as the information required is compiled.

Mr. C. H. Davie (Cowichan-Newcastle), demonstrated the possession of astonishing curiosity about the Government's beer business. He asked no less than twenty questions in a row, and called for answers on Wednesday next.

Among other things, he wanted to know what proportion of the foamy beverage purchased by the Liquor Board is secured from the Amalgamated Brewers and Agency of British Columbia, who are the shareholders of the Amalgamated Brewers; are beer-parlor operators' orders for any particular brand of beer filled; if not, in what way is the distribution to parlors determined; by whom; with or without the sanction of the Liquor Board; is there any agreement or understanding between the Board and the Amalgamated Brewers relating to the distribution of beer? Has Mr. Hugh Davidson, Liquor Commissioner, stated that it would be a breach of faith to order beer contrary to the present arrangement; if so, is his statement correct; is there any agreement, verbal or otherwise, between the Amalgamated Brewers and the Government relating to the present price of beer? What is the present price of beer per barrel of ten dozen pints; when was the price fixed; from what date was it made payable; was it an increase over the former price, and how much; have any offers been received from brewers or companies within or without British Columbia, to sell beer at a price less than the present current price?

Answers Given

Mr. J. Hinchliffe, second member for Victoria, received the following answers to "beer" questions from the Minister of Finance. The Provincial Government does not receive any revenue from the brewers as operators of breweries, but revenue was collected in the way of income taxes, personal property taxes and other levies in the same manner as such revenue was collected from other men engaged in business.

The Attorney-General presented Mr. Hinchliffe with the following additional "beer" answers: From March 21, 1925, when the sale of beer by the glass was instituted, to September 30, 1925, the following quantities of beer were bought:

From the Amalgamated Brewers, barrels bulk beer, 23,457; barrels bottled beer, 24,842; barrels bottled ale, 4,767; total price paid, $2,339,694.75.

From the Cranbrook Brewing Company, barrels bulk beer, 452; barrels bottled beer, 2,022; total price paid, $42,474.25.

From the Enterprise Brewing Company, barrels bulk beer, 151; barrels bottled beer, 602; barrels bottled ale, 57; total price paid, $11,831.86.

From the Fernie Fort Steele Brewing Company, barrels bulk beer, 2,119; barrels bottled beer, 5,917; barrels bottled ale, 179; total price paid, $140,341.58.

From the Nelson Brewing Company, barrels bulk beer, 1,710; barrels bottled beer, 2,850; barrels bottled ale, 654; total amount paid, $182,813.

Princeton Brewing Company, barrels bulk beer, 1,948; total amount paid, $32,142.

"Back to Farm" Says Premier Of Alberta

Agrarian Leader Abandons
Office and "Is Through
With Politics for Good and All," He Declares

Blames Followers for Step

EDMONTON, Nov. 23.—Premier Herbert Greenfield, leader of the Farmer Government since it took over the reins of office from the former Liberal administration in 1921, tendered his resignation to the Lieutenant-Governor at 11:30 this morning, recommending that His Honor ask Attorney-General J. E. Brownlee to form a government.

Premier Brownlee was sworn in immediately thereafter, followed by his ministers, the official duty being performed by His Honor at his chambers in the Government buildings.

While some office changes have been made in portfolios in the new Cabinet, no changes in personnel have been made, neither is there a new Attorney-General named to replace Premier Brownlee.

The new Cabinet as now named is as follows:

Premier and Attorney-General, Hon. J. E. Brownlee; Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Municipalities, Hon. R. G. Reid; Minister of Agriculture and Public Health and Provincial Secretary, Hon. George Hoadley; Minister of Labor and Public Works, Hon. Alex. Ross; Minister of Railways and Telephones, Hon. W. Smith; Minister of Education, Hon. Perrin Baker; Minister without portfolio, Hon. Irene Parby.

The only changes in portfolio are that Premier Brownlee, while retaining his portfolio as Attorney-General, relinquishes that of Provincial Secretary to Mr. Hoadley, while the portfolio of Minister of Municipal Affairs, held formerly by Mr. Greenfield, goes to Mr. Reid, who retains also that of Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. Greenfield was not a candidate at the general election in 1921, but he was called upon to form a government after Henry W. Wood and Hon. J. E. Brownlee had both declined to take office as Premier.

Represented Peace River

On August 1, 1921, Premier Greenfield assumed office. He was elected a member of the Provincial Legislature for the Peace River constituency on December 3, 1921, following the resignation of D. M. Kennedy, and he held the principal seat in the Farmer Government ever since.

Humors that the former Premier would take some official position, possibly on the Utilities Board, are denied by Mr. Greenfield.

"Back to the farm for me," was his only comment this morning, through with politics for good and all.

Premier Brownlee, immediately following his swearing in, named his Cabinet ministers, and a brief Cabinet meeting will inaugurate the new Government.

Mr. Greenfield's Statement

Premier Greenfield, as one of his last official acts, prepared a statement for the press which reads in part as follows:

"I had not been a candidate in the election, and was strongly disinclined to enter public life, but in response to the unanimous request, verbally expressed by every member, I consented to accept the position, subsequently forming the present Government, which assumed office on August 13, 1921.

"Latterly it has become increasingly evident that there is a full accord between the supporters of the Government in the Legislature and myself which is essential to the successful continuation of an administration.

"We are now rapidly approaching the time when the administration must make its appeal for a further mandate from the people. In response to my successor in office and to give him the opportunity of forming his own plans for the election, I have decided to tender my resignation to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor."

"I don't see why I should pay the death penalty when the man who actually did the killing and got the stuff are walking the streets today. I don't think that is justice."

In passing sentence Judge Adamson announced the date of execution as Monday, February 3. This date, it was later pointed out, the bench falls on a Tuesday and counsel for Stanton intimated that the sentence may be challenged on technical grounds. The written judgment, however, definitely fixed the date as Tuesday, February 3.

The crime for which Stanton will hang was one of the most brutal in local history. At the trial it was shown that he had plotted to rob Penny of a sum of money and jewelry.

The House Comes Back—in a Low State of Mind—Which Is Inexplicable—Until the Odor of Eucalyptus Pervades the Purloins—And the Answer Is Given—The House Has a Cold in the Head—Which Prevents Debate on the K. K. K.—And Results in Early Adjournment

The Press Gallery, Monday.

The House returned to its duties today in a low state of mind. The House was observably in poor spirits, preoccupied with the worries of seasonal life, prepared to take a gloomy view of things. The possible reasons for this posture of legislative affairs were freely canvassed in those purloins of the House where idling members most do congregate, but it was not until the odor of eucalyptus became extremely pervasive that the question was answered. The answer was that the House had come back from its week-end with a cold in its head.

One of the negative results of this pathological condition of the House was that there was no debate on the Ku Klux Klan, and this constituted an obvious disappointment to the crowded galleries. The galleries were crowded in anticipation of the heralded speech on the hooded knights by the honorable and gallant member for Alberni. Alas for the waning gaiety of the hoarse and snuffling House! Major Burde was home in Alberni, undergoing external and internal fomentations, according to credible report, struggling with a cold too bad to permit of parliamentary language on any subject, least of all on such a provocative subject as the klanmen. The House, sympathetically aware that the Hon. First Minister was himself almost hors de combat with a sore throat, raised no objection to his early motion of adjournment.

There was no debate on the Ku Klux Klan, but the galleries were not entirely denied a diversion in that direction. It came in the form of an interjection of the proceedings by Mr. Tom Uphill (Perry) and Mr. Uphill waving a sheet of notepaper at Mr. Speaker, rose to a point of privilege. As it to be borne, Mr. Speaker, that the honorable member should be the recipient of notes, delivered to his desk in the sacred precincts of the House itself, signed with the fateful letters, "K. K. K." and bearing the sinister intimation, "You are known." Mr. Uphill desired Mr. Speaker to know that Mr. Uphill knew he was known. Mr. Uphill desired Mr. Speaker to bear witness that this was an outrage. Mr. Speaker, suppressing all conjectural emotions within himself as to this outrage, called the reviving House to order, and the House returned to its gloomy preoccupations with the orders of the day.

The House, in its low state of mind, found it impossible to extract cheerfulness from the second reading of Bill (No. 5) "Intituled" "An Act to Facilitate the Reciprocal Enforcement of Judgments and Awards."

Mr. C. F. Davis (Cowichan-Newcastle) objected to the amendment, striking out the word "and" and substituting the word "or" in subsection 7 of section 1, that it did not mean anything. Mr. Davis said it was unnecessary verbiage. It must be apparent to any lawyer, said Mr. Davis, it must be apparent even to the Attorney-General, that the clause did not mean anything. Hon. Attorney-General Manson, opposing a mild demeanor to this ambiguous distinction of his honorable and learned friend, thought that the section should be preserved. Even if it did not mean anything, it did no harm. Legislative counsel had advised the insertion of the clause. The House, with every mark of innocence upon the matter in debate, and too low spirited to have an opinion where lawyers disagreed, voted to keep the clause.

Still aromatic with eucalyptus, but slightly less redolent of mystery, the atmosphere of the House experienced a change for the better with the introduction of amendments to the Highway Act. These were in charge of Hon. Minister of Works Rutherford. The practice here is for where the capacious opposition is concerned, and a successful exponent of the soft answer which turns aside opposition, it is essential that there were matters of carnal human interest in these proposed amendments of the Highway Act. The minister had been considering the question of those perverse motorists, who, about to become overtaken motorists within the meaning of the Act, had been guilty of the practice of sudden stops, speeding up as they were about to be passed by the overtaking motorist, and of refusing to allow the overtaking motorist to pass them. The minister proposed to penalize such perverse motorists. The minister had also been considering the proper method of rural mail boxes in relation to the public highway; the necessity of enactments to enable the Government to establish one-way roads; the desirability of a five-dollar toll for tourists on the Fraser Canyon Highway, and other matters. The suspicion that even these comparatively academic matters might become controversial was somewhat confirmed by Mr. Pooley, who thought that the bill had better not reach the committee stage just yet, and who adjourned the debate.

The practice of this House in respect of questions by members to honorable ministers is not the ordinary practice of the British House of Commons, and this House misses many an interesting half-hour in consequence. The practice here is for members to set down their questions on the order paper, and for the answers to appear in the daily publication of Votes and Proceedings. This afternoon, several opposition members were moved to enliven the desultory proceedings by inquiry as to the fate of certain questions, so far unanswered. The response from the Cabinet benches was either triumphant, in the case of answers already given but overlooked by the questioners, or conciliatory, in the case of answers to be given in a day or two. Honorable ministers, afflicted with cold in the head and the capriciousness of an irreconcilable opposition, but upborne by eucalyptus and the consciousness of inexpugnable rectitude, were notably patient and conciliatory today.

Questions on the current order

Correspondent Who Accompanied Prince

paper cover a wide field. Honorable members evince a consuming curiosity about many things. Mr. Walkem wants to know whether the Premier addressed a letter to certain members, asking their opinions on the relative advantages of a Fall or a Spring session. If so, what members? And also, if so, what were the answers? Mr. Hinchliffe wants to know if it is the intention of the Government to construct a bridge across the West Arm of Kootenay Lake. Mr. Pooley wants to know all about the money spent on the construction of the Fraser Canyon Highway, especially that spent in payment of a certain contractor, still more especially, whether the sums voted by the House have been exceeded. And in that regrettable case, by whose authority? Mr. Hayward wants to know all about the amount of gasoline used at the Government garage, Victoria, and who gets it, and who pays for it, and whether it should be paid for? There are lots of friendly little questions of this sort on the order paper—questions designed to constitute the opposition the traditional watchdog of the treasury, questions designed to keep the Government from worrying too much about its collective cold in the head.

Soldier Members Are Named on Committee

For the purpose of supervising the apportionment of canteen funds allotted to British Columbia, amounting to $200,000, the returned soldier members of the Legislature yesterday appointed Brig.-General V. W. Odium, Vancouver, and Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., The Islands, as a committee with power to choose a third member. It is probable that the executive of the Amalgamated Service men's organization will be asked to name the third member from among representative veterans of the interior of the Province.

The action of the Dominion Parliament in passing a special Act at the last Federal session authorizing disposal of the canteen funds is the actuating motive behind the appointment.

A WORK OF PATRIOTISM

While the memory of the latest recognition accorded to British Columbia's 67th birthday is fresh in all minds it is in order to point out that the citizens of this Province owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. R. B. McKicking for her part in adding to the public appreciation of that anniversary. Mrs. McKicking has striven for years to arouse a proper conception of the importance of this event. She has never been deterred in seeking to achieve her end by what seemed like public apathy. She persisted in her course, and, just as in the case of all worthy causes, the people have now come to see eye to eye with her. In this way she has performed a service of patriotic character which redounds to her credit.

The anniversary commemoration is now firmly launched, not only in Victoria but in Vancouver, as well, and it is only a question of time before the annual event is honored throughout the Province.
It is no exaggeration to say that had it not been for Mrs. McKicking there would be no British Columbia birthday celebrations anywhere. It is her enthusiasm and persistency that have led to the event being recognized by the B. C. Historical Association, by the native sons, and daughters; indeed, by the citizens as a whole, and from now on it may be assumed that the commemoration will be Province-wide. It is a patriotic task on which she has been engaged and one that could only be accomplished by a lady inspired with the belief and faith of Mrs. McKicking. It is taking away no credit from the Lady Douglas Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire to say that it is through its Regent that its name has become so closely and historically associated with awakening the people of British Columbia to a full appreciation of the importance of the natal day of their land. Mrs. McKicking has succeeded in giving to the Province something that she will always be remembered for, since she has provided, as it were, a rallying ground for patriotism by insisting that there is a day specially set aside and marked out for honoring the memory of this great Province. She deserves the warmest congratulations for the success she has achieved.

POLICE AND PRESS

The authorities at Quebec have taken a step which we are inclined to think they will not be able to justify in any sense. It is in the shape of an arbitrary order just issued forbidding officers and members of the provincial police and detective force, under pain of dismissal, from communicating any information whatever to representatives of the press. This order, of course, will run counter to public opinion. It will, in its operation, immediately give rise to countless suspicions, and the chief of these will be that the methods of law and the administration of justice in Quebec have something to hide. The policy is wholly unfair to the public who pay the money which makes police administration possible. Possibly the new policy of official secrecy is to be used to cloak lack of diligence. It can only be designed for the protection of the police force from the sifting process of public opinion.

The fact is that lack of co-operation between the press and the law will do more than anything else to bring a wave of criticism on the heads of law officials. The press, and rightly so, acts as a stimulant to police activities. If the police are to adopt a "hush hush" policy they will bring about a situation which will probably be inimical to the preservation of security. Such silence will be comforting to criminals and for the police it may possess a snugg assurance that they can pursue tactics which will not come before the bar of public opinion. What the Quebec authorities forget is that the newspapers will secure the news from other sources. They cannot be bludgeoned into silence so long as the liberty of the press is a cardinal principle of civil, religious and political freedom.

SOVIET WAIFS

A Riga dispatch says that the Soviet Government has given up the Communist system of State maintenance of children. The direct consequence of the practical application of Communist doctrines in regard to family life has been child vagabondage. This has meant that the Moscow Soviet has had to debate methods to provide shelter for homeless children before the advancing Winter takes a toll similar to that of past years. Now it has been found that the existing "homes" are inadequate and that the system has, indeed, proved a complete failure. Waifs have been swelling the ranks of criminals and the intention now is to cleanse the towns of this scandal.

The direct State maintenance of such children is to be abandoned. Thus another of the essential parts of the Socialist system has had to go by the board. The alternative is to find foster-parents among the peasantry, not only for vagabond children but also for the present inmates of the Soviet "homes." The latest policy is to round up the waifs, mainly children between the ages of 12 and 17, and to induce the peasants to adopt them by the promise of gifts of additional lands, where such are available, or of a sum of money. From Moscow alone 25,000 of these vagabond children are to be farmed out, which illustrates what has been the result of Soviet Sunday Schools and the other measures adopted for the training of the young. It would appear as if Russia's system of education in Communism has broken down completely. It has made the problem of child life one which demands a complete change in the Soviet system.

ART OF THINKING

Dr. E. Farquhar Buzzard has been lecturing on the prevention and arrest of nervous disease and in the course of his observations he said that an enormous amount of everyday suffering was the result of minor mental disorders. He admits that the medical profession has, hitherto, been very inefficiently equipped for dealing with these conditions. Within recent years, however, there has been an attempt to rectify the inadequate arrangements for dealing with the medical profession in this particular branch of its work. In Dr. Buzzard's opinion a better education of the public is also needed. He is persuaded that the real important groundwork in the prevention of many nervous ailments should be in future found in a much more general improvement in education.

Dr. Buzzard believes that present-day education is lacking in many directions. It is lacking because the general education of children is based far too much on the acquirement of knowledge and it lacks a great deal in the way of educating the mind, particularly in regard to thinking. His conception is that the art or practice of thinking, and thinking clearly, is something that could be as well taught and learned as many of the subjects in which children are trained. The present custom seems to be to prevent children having sufficient time to think and it is certainly not the custom to encourage them to do so. Dr. Buzzard goes further. He visualizes in the future classes of school children who are being taught a sense of humor or a sense of proportion. If that were done a long step forward would be taken towards preventing a good deal of mental suffering in later years.

ONTARIO'S POLITICS

If Mr. Howard Ferguson, the Premier of Ontario, becomes a member of Mr. Arthur Meighen's Cabinet when the latter is formed, the choice of a successor to him in Ontario appears to lie between Mr. W. H. Price and Mr. George Henry. There are many indications that Ontario will soon have a Provincial election. At present there are six vacancies in the Provincial Legislature, one of which was caused by the death of Sir Adam Beck, who sat for London. If these by-elections are not held it will fore-shadow a general appeal to the people, and the election may take place in May or June. The main issue of the campaign will be the Government's declaration for a system of Government control of the sale of spirituous liquors and wines as opposed to the perpetuation of the Ontario Temperance Act. On such an issue in Ontario the contest will be keen and exciting, but the experience of other provinces in the Dominion is expected to have its influence coupled with the strength of the Conservative Party in that Province.

The difference of methods employed by Canada and Australasia in encouraging immigration from the British Isles are forcibly illustrated by figures. In commenting on these The Toronto Globe says: "Since the adoption of the Empire Settlement Act in 1922, to September 1, 1925, assisted passages from Great Britain to Australia and New Zealand were granted to 97,024 persons, as compared with 20,985 to Canada. Possibly the longer trip appealed to them, but the chances are the Antipodean countries were more enterprising in presenting their attractions."

Prohibition is not gaining ground in New Zealand. In the recent plebiscite on the subject there were 288,425 votes cast for the continuance of the present policy and 50,949 for State purchase and control. The votes cast for Prohibition numbered 291,388. This was the result, with some 50,000 votes still uncounted. The outcome will probably lead to longer intervals being adopted between the times of taking such plebiscites.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the Norwegian explorer, politician and philanthropist, has been elected Rector of the University of St. Andrews. The result of the vote was Dr. Nansen, 216; Mr. Callisworthy, 160. In 1921-1922, Dr. Nansen was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. It is but rarely that a foreigner is done so much honor by a Scottish University.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The world she knew and over whose affections she reigned without a rival for a great many years had slipped away from Queen Alexandra (for she was ever Queen of the affections of many of the older generation), and probably she was quite content to slip away from the world. Therefore while looking far back into other years and remembering that Princess Alexandra came to England a stranger and conquered all hearts by her beauty of person and of character, we regret her departure, we shall not mourn as those who can not be comforted.

After all, exalted station does not carry with it exemption from the common trials and tribulations of life. Queen Alexandra had lived beyond the allotted span. The husband of her youth and the child of her affections, and doubtless many others that the world wots not of, to whom her heart was knit had "gone before." Her work in this world was done. How do we know that she was not eager to lay down the life which had become a burden and to join the family circle "over there"? Is it not the experience of all who have been vouchsafed length of days that the conditions on the other side are likely to become more homelike than the circumstances on this side?

The people of England welcomed their Royal Dane with open arms when she came amongst them as a proud and happy bride. The people of England will tenderly and with becoming reverence lay the daughter of the Sea King to rest beside the kindred of her choice. It is sad of course to think that the end of one who was so lovely in her person and her life has come. But there was so much to be thankful for, even to rejoice over, in the life of Alexandra, that we should be thankful in our hearts for the life and be reconciled to the death.

We have referred at least once, possibly more than once, to the disposition of certain persons or elements in Victoria to oppose things that one naturally would think there could not possibly be any opposition. But possibly that peculiar disposition is due to something the scientific authorities call heredity or environment—and sometimes that inheritance is a blessing not only to those who inherit it, but to all the people.

We know from experience that our parliamentary system works most effectively when it develops two opposing political parties—a party which tries to do things and a party which tries to prevent things from being done, a constructive party and an obstructive party, a government party and an opposition party. When in the course of political events a third party develops itself, our parliamentary system does not function so smoothly nor so effectively.

Consider the political circumstances of Canada at the present time and ponder over what is likely to happen. The party in power, and is likely to try to stay in power, is a minority party. The smallest party of the three, an insignificant party compared with the other two parties, a party of extreme economic views, holds what is called "the balance of power."

This party can dictate a policy for the Government. This minority party can turn the Government out of power if the Government refuses to do the things it demands shall be done; and the probabilities are that the Government will bow its head in submission to the dictators, for there is every indication that the Government is determined to retain power whatever the consequences may be to the people of Canada.

The Progressive Party is composed of about a score of members. That party through the agency of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King will be the governing power in Canada for the next four or five years. Therefore unless something unforeseen develops Canada will for one Parliamentary term be under a dictatorship more or less than the Italian dictatorship of Signor Mussolini.

In the case of the Dominion of Canada the genius of the people to develop opposition is not a blessing but a curse. In the case of the city of Victoria we are not sure whether the disposition of a certain class of people to oppose things is a blessing or a curse. We can understand the attitude of the Reeve of Saanich, for example, in opposing the acquisition of a permanent and adequate water supply for the city of Victoria, but we cannot understand the opposition of any citizen of Victoria to the acquisition of such a service.

The opposition has carried its opposition on the water question to the Legislature. The water is blessed at the present time with a highly efficient, a very progressive, and a most economical government. We shall not say anything about the character of the Government of the Province, it is blessed, or otherwise, with, although we have heard very emphatic opinions pronounced upon that subject. The Legislature is responsible for the Government, whether that Government be good or bad, efficient or incompetent. And yet a Legislature about whose capacity so many people have serious doubts has been asked to step in and superintend the affairs of a city blessed with an administration in regard to whose capacity for government we have had a convincing demonstration during the current year. We say that the Legislature should not be encouraged to interfere with the management of the affairs of Victoria; that the Legislature should be warned to keep its hand out of the affairs of Victoria; that the Legislature may be assured that the affairs of Victoria will not be conducted in such a way as to be injurious to the true interests of any of the neighbors of Victoria.

Where the Barbecue is a Popular Affair

The barbecue is as typical an institution of the South and Middle West as the clam bake is of Rhode Island and beans of Boston. In fact, almost every locality of our country can boast its own favorite food and method of serving that food.

But the barbecue originated in Georgia. From there it spread all through the Southern States, and even to the Southwestern and Middle Western States. And its popularity increases as it spreads to new territories.

This peculiar type of entertainment has played its part in every form of activity. It is used in political campaigns, in social life, in business. Many a man has gained his popularity as an employer and an office-holder by the lavishness of his barbecue entertainments.

Nobody knows just how the barbecue originated. But that it has existed for more than a hundred years is proved by its history in history. There are even tales of barbeques with the Indians sealed with barbecue viands.

The barbecue is nothing more than a huge open-air entertainment, either social or political, at which sheep or oxen are roasted whole. Hundreds of people can be fed at a single barbecue and things are always conducted on a gigantic scale.

Originally, it seems, the meat cooked in the barbecue was game, such as deer and bear, but as these animals became scarce, sheep, pig and oxen took their place. Today beef, pork, chicken, duck, vegetables, especially potatoes and corn on the cob, are served in the barbecue. Fish, beef, mutton, pork, chicken, duck, vegetables, especially potatoes and corn on the cob, are served in the barbecue.

Amendments to Administration Act Proposed

Important Alterations May Make Clearer Positions of Heirs Where No Will Is Left

Important amendments to the Administration Act are contained in a bill introduced in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by the Attorney-General. The bill is scheduled to come into effect, May 1, 1926, and, it is believed, will make much clearer the position of heirs of people who die without testaments.

Some of the more important regulations contained in the bill are as follows:

No distribution of the surplusage of the personal estate of an intestate shall be made until one year after the death of such intestate, provided that if at any time within such period it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the intestate has left any person who was wholly or in part dependent upon him at the time of his death, and that such dependent is entitled to share in the distribution, the court may make an order directing that the whole or any part of the prospective share of such dependent in the surplusage of the personal estate may be forthwith paid out to such dependent upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper.

Where No Will Left

If a person dies leaving no will and is survived by a widow and one child, one-half of the estate goes to the widow; if an intestate dies leaving a widow and children, one-third of the estate goes to the widow.

If an intestate leaves a widow and no issue, his estate, where the net value does not exceed $20,000, shall go to the widow. If the net value exceeds $20,000, the widow shall receive $20,000 and one-half of the residue; the other half going to the heirs who would share if there were no widow.

If an intestate leaves a widow or widow or issue or father or mother, his estate shall go to his brothers and sisters in equal shares, and if any brother or sister is deceased, the share of the deceased shall take the share their parent would have taken if living.

Further Provisions

In case there is neither widow, issue, father, mother, brother or sister, and no children of any deceased brother or sister, the estate shall go to his next-of-kin. Such distribution shall be made equally among next-of-kin of equal degree of consanguinity to the intestate and those who legally represent them, but in no case shall representation be admitted among collateral heirs after brothers' and sisters' children.

Descendants and relatives of the intestate, begotten before his death but born thereafter, shall inherit as if they had been born in the lifetime of the intestate and had survived him. Illegitimate children and their issue shall inherit from the mother as if the children were legitimate, and shall inherit as if the children were legitimate, through the mother, if dead, any real or personal property which she would have taken, if living, by gift, devise, or descent from any other person.

Apportionment Outlined

If an intestate, being an illegitimate child, dies leaving no widow or issue, his estate shall go to his mother, if living, but if the mother is dead his estate shall go to the children of the same mother on equal shares, and if any child is deceased, the share of the deceased child shall take the share of their parent would have taken if living; provided that where the only person entitled to the share of deceased children of the mother, they shall take per capita.

If a wife has left her husband and is living in adultery at the time of his death, she shall take no part of her husband's estate. The same condition applies to a husband living in adultery at the time of his wife's death. Section five of the bill calls for the repeal of the Dower Act, Revised Statutes of British Columbia.

"Bomb" Explosion Costs Boy an Eye

Burgess yesterday removed one eye of James Duncan, ten-year-old son of a widowed mother living on Mason Street, who was injured by the explosion of a bomb on Halloween. The boy picked up what he thought to be a "dud" from the street on Halloween and was terribly injured when it exploded in his face. Forced to remove one eye yesterday, the surgeons saved the other only with difficulty.

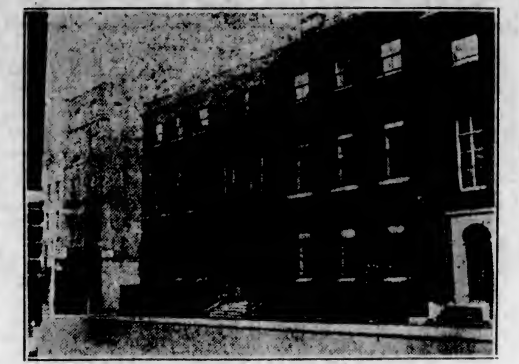

The father, the late James Duncan, was one of the victims of the Hope disaster. A grandfather and an uncle of the injured boy died violent deaths within the last few years.

Mrs. Duncan, mother of the unfortunate lad, has been forced since the loss of her husband to support five children in addition to her son James.

Vancouver Wishes To Escape Liability For Damage Actions

Another attempt was made yesterday by representatives of the City of Vancouver appearing before the Municipal Committee of the Legislature, to "escape from under" a section of the old incorporation of Vancouver Act, which holds the city liable for damages arising through accidents caused by defective sidewalks and pavements. The subject called forth considerable argument, and it is probable that the point will be placed before the House for decision. When the matter was brought before the Legislature at a former session, refusal to amend the section was made. Apart from common-law rights, the section, as it stands at present, holds the corporation absolutely responsible for keeping the streets and sidewalks in order. The result, according to the representations of the corporation, is that much money has been lost through claims, some of which were believed to be bogus. It was claimed that Vancouver was the only Canadian city inflicted with such a law.

Borneo Planters Pool Their Rubber

Interesting Statement Is Made by Mr. Dabell, Who Recently Reached Here

An interesting description of British North Borneo is given by Mr. H. A. Dabell, who passed through Victoria on the liner Empress of Asia, and has since been at Meynon, Saak, settling up the affairs of his father, Mr. Ernest Dabell, who died early in the year.

Mr. Dabell, who has been in British North Borneo for the last ten years, is en route to the Old Country.

Describing the Protectorate, he pointed out that the chief production of late years had been rubber, other important articles of export being tobacco, rattan and timber. Jesselton, with the rubber plantations, was the administrative seat being at Sandakan. Stevenson Plan Used.

Touching upon the rubber plantation industry, Mr. Dabell explained that the plantations owners had adopted the plan of the "Stevenson plan" practically put into force a growers' organization which in many respects was not unlike the wheat pool in Western Canada. The association came into being following the war to bring about an adjustment of values. The war had caused the production of rubber to be pressed by the governments of the world to the extreme limit and with the cessation of hostilities this rubber came back to the markets of the world, with the result that the price of the raw product was forced downward. The situation was such that for some years many plantations were operated without profit, and the situation was such that the prospect of the rubber industry in a great extent was possible.

Pioneer of Sechelt Died on Sunday

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—Another old-timer, "the pioneer of Sechelt," Mr. Herbert W. Whitaker, died Sunday at the home of his brother, R. P. Whitaker, 2646 Beach Avenue. Death was not unexpected as Mr. Whitaker had been in poor health for some time. Coming to Vancouver in 1889 from Bedford, England, when sixteen years old, Mr. Whitaker resided here for two years. He then moved to Sechelt where he made his home for thirty-two years. There he conducted a hotel and a large summer resort. His widow and two sons survive him.

Industrial Disputes Act Is Explained

Measure Drawn to Apply Within B.C. Introduced by Attorney-General

Attorney-General Manson, explaining in the House yesterday the investigation of industrial disputes Act, which is drawn to apply within the Province of British Columbia, recalled that the Federal Industrial Disputes Act, better known as the Lemieux Act, had been declared illegal last year by the judicial committee of the Privy Council, with the reservation that its terms could be made operative within the Canadian provinces by authority of Provincial legislation. He declared he believed that the value of the act was beyond question and quoted Mr. Thomas Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, as endorsing its principles.

Mr. Despard, twice registered objection to the Attorney-General being also Minister of Labor in the Provincial Cabinet on the ground that his position of chief law officer was incompatible with a portfolio that called for certain compromise and conciliation.

Mr. Uphill, Fernie, while opposed to the Lemieux Act, declared his willingness to support any measure that sought to encourage equality between the workers and their employers. The Dominion Act, he charged, had been drawn for the special benefit of employers, and when he was asked for in connection with a labor dispute in the Fernie coal fields, it failed in its application.

"I am going to devote some study to the bill and if it provides the same opportunities to the employees as it does to the employer, then I will support it," he added. "I do not believe in the strike but I am convinced that its use provides workers with their only means of securing justice."

House Receives Annual Report of Superannuation Act

Hon. William Riban, Provincial Secretary, presented to the Legislature yesterday the fourth annual report of the business done under the Superannuation Act, which is administered by the Civil Service Commissioner.

Although operating for only four years, the Superannuation Fund has already attained very substantial proportions. The cash on deposit in the treasury on March 31, 1925, amounted to $1,043,885. In addition to cash on hand, the fund had a further asset of $169,754, being the amount owing by the Government to the special reserve fund. This is a liability assumed by the Government in connection with that portion of the allowances granted that accrue from services rendered prior to the passing of the Superannuation Act in 1921 and which is being paid by the monthly contribution of one per cent of the total payroll. Assets total $1,213,640.

During the year ending March 31, 1925, superannuation allowances were granted to twenty civil servants on their retirement. This list contained such well-known names as Mr. W. F. Robertson, Provincial Mineralogist, who was granted an allowance of $2,000 per annum, and Mr. R. F. Tolmie, Deputy Minister of Mines, who was granted $2,287 per annum.

During these twelve months fourteen contributors to the superannuation fund died and 139 other contributors left the service. Refund was made to the estate of each one who died of the full amount contributed by him, together with the interest earned by his contributions. Similar refunds were made to the contributors who left the service. These refunds totalled $24,621.

Navy League Branch For Island Forming

Separation From Mainland, With Two Divisions for Province, Decided Upon

News of the separation of the British Columbia division of the Navy League of Canada into two divisions, one for Vancouver Island and one for the Mainland, comes simultaneously with the arrival on the Coast of the Dominion president, Mr. Sam Harris. A meeting of the local branch executive was held last evening at the Empress Hotel for the purpose of making plans for the formation of the Vancouver Island division and the financing thereof, and the scheme was developed to the point where there remains simply the formal organization of the new unit and election of officers. This, it is intended, will take place within the next month.

Inspects Cadets
Before the meeting at the Empress.

Mr. Harris carried out an inspection of the Victoria Sea Cadet Corps at their headquarters in the old Drill Hall. Lieut. J. W. Tribe, commanding officer of the corps, was in charge of the proceedings, and after the boys had given their exhibition they were rewarded by a very complimentary little speech in which the Dominion president remarked the improvement since he last witnessed their work eighteen months ago.

The boys sent the following message by flashlight signal:

"The Cadet Corps of Victoria send to you, Mr. Sam Harris, a very hearty welcome."

There were also exhibitions of bands and hitches, reading the compass, and flashing, concluding with a final "march past." Mr. Harris taking the salute. Three cheers for the Dominion president were evoked by Mr. Harris' generous action in entertaining the boys to ice cream and coffee through Lieut. Tribe as host by proxy.

cil last night accepted an invitation to be present at a meeting of the Members' Forum of the Chamber of Commerce at 8:15 o'clock on November 26.

Meeting Cancelled—The Gyro Loud
Speakers have cancelled their meeting, which was to be held tomorrow evening, in order to permit their

A. Sullivan on the "How and Why of Public Speaking."

By-Law Not Introduced—The proposed by-law for the sale of part of the Elk Lake golf course to Mr. J. S. Connell, of Vancouver, was not introduced at last night's meeting of the City Council, as he originally been intended.

Appoints Storekeeper—The City Council last evening appointed Mr.
Peter Hancock as storekeeper at Garbally Yard, to be on probation until January 31, when the appointment will be confirmed if Mr. Hancock's services are satisfactory.

Search for Man Being Made—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are searching for Mr. "Ferd" Cronbach, who was employed at Tacoma, Washington, in 1910, and subsequently came to Victoria. Mr. Cronbach is sought "on behalf of the executors of an estate."

Lease Approved—The draft of the lease giving the British Columbia Agricultural Association possession of the Willows grounds for eleven months was last night approved by the City Council. The lease, drawn up along the same lines as that of last year, has already been approved by the association.

Pioneer Miner Here—Mr. Robert Henderson, who has had a long experience in the Yukon following the elusive search for gold, is now in Victoria. He believes that the southern end of Vancouver Island, which in years gone by attracted a great deal of attention on account of his place showings, is not yet to be considered as a thing of the past in this line. He believes that there is still room for prospecting, and operation in some of the streams.

Fire Engine Charges—The City Council debated at great length last night the question of whether the city should show the fire-fighting apparatus to respond to fire calls from the surrounding municipalities, even though the latter were to pay for the equipment. The fire-fighting apparatus was submitted as a scale of charges for such aid prepared by Fire Chief Vernon Stewart. The Council finally tabled the matter for a week to enable the views of the fire underwriters to be ascertained.

Council to Pay Part Deficit of Hospital Board

Experiment of 1924 Proved Inadequate to Handle Cost of Indigency Treatment in City

More Money Is Wanted

Foreboding a return to the former system of financing for indigent patients at the Jubilee Hospital, the board has asked for provision to be made in the city estimates for 1926 for $2,500 per month. At present $2,000 a month is paid, and the board is in debt, up to the end of August, to the extent of $500 accordingly.

In order to meet the liabilities, and in view of the fact that not more than $5,000 of this deficit is expected to be collected, the board has asked for $15,000 at once.

The council last evening accepted the recommendation of the finance committee, to give an immediate grant of $10,000. If the hospital authorities can collect a sum of not less than $5,000 from the neighboring municipalities, then the city will give a further grant of $5,000 before the end of the year.

The finance committee also recommended that the former system of monthly payments of $2,500 be reverted to in 1926. This was a temporary plan adopted by the council early in 1924.

From a memorandum before Alderman Brown, chairman of the health committee, and a city representative on the hospital board, it appears that the hospital is going behind to the extent of over $1,600 a month. The memorandum argues that a system of paying $2.50 per day on all delinquent accounts would seem from actual experience to be the minimum of adequate support.

Alderman Brown explained the situation to his colleagues, and pointed out that the arrangement made last year was in the nature of an experiment, which had proved unsatisfactory.

Alderman Woodward argued that the requested grant should be paid, and Alderman Marchant spoke of the service rendered by the hospital, and paid a tribute to the work of the board.

"Mr. Lazbyones left everything to his wife," "He always did."

Churchmen Pay Tribute to Life of Queen Mother

Many References in City Churches on Sunday to Splendid Qualities of the Late Queen Alexandra

Memorial Services Later

In many of the city churches on Sunday allusion was made to the passing of the Queen Mother. Special hymns and prayers were selected, and in all tribute was paid to the splendid qualities of Queen Alexandra during a period of sixty-two years on British soil.

In some of the churches Chopin's
Funeral March was rendered.
The details of the rapidly taking form for the public ministerial service to be held in the Arena to synchronize with the burial rites in the Old Country.

A representative of the Provincial Government, and Rev. Dr. Wilson will give addresses. Rev. Dr. Clay will read the passage of Scripture, and Rev. R. W. Lee and Rev. Henry Knox will take part. Rev. A. de B. Owen, as president of the Ministerial Association, will occupy the chair. Mr.
Lee is acting as secretary of the committee of arrangements.

A separate memorial service will be held at Christ Church Cathedral to synchronize with the hour of the funeral.

At Christ Church
At Christ Church Cathedral yesterday prayers were said for the Royal Family, and at the morning service a special hymn was sung in memory of Queen Alexandra.

The Dean stated that a public memorial service would be held in the Cathedral this week, and that particulars as to the day and hour would be announced when more details were known of the official services in England.

Reformed Episcopal

Rev. A. de B. Owen, rector of the Reformed Episcopal Church, and president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, spoke to his congregation on the example of the Queen Mother, and pointed out how coming to a strange land as a young girl, Queen Alexandra had endeared herself to the British nation, and far beyond that to the wide world. Her sympathies were very wide, and this was illustrated by the Alexandra Rose Day, which though started to help those who were blind, and could not see the fruit of their world, it has spread to be a great aid to the suffering. She had entered into a well-earned rest after a life of self-sacrifice, he said.

Metropolitan

At the morning service at the Metropolitan Church Rev. A. K. Mc-Minn made a brief reference to the passing of the Queen Mother, and said Queen Alexandra had made herself world renowned for her sympathy and kindly aid to the suffering public. In view of the public ministerial service it had been decided to defer further reference until that occasion.

Emmanuel

In view of the public service at the end of the week the allusion was restricted at Emmanuel Baptist Church,
a brief tribute being paid by Rev.
Henry Knox, the pastor.

At St. John's

Preaching to a large congregation at St. John's Anglican Church, the rector, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, took his text from the lesson for the day, Ecclesiastes xii, 1: "These words," he said, "have a particularly appropriate message for us today when we are called upon to mourn the loss of the beloved Queen Mother Alexandra.
Coming from Denmark as the Princecess Beatrice, she won instantly the admiration and affection of the whole Empire. With a rare grace and unique charm she grew in the affections of all, and when Edward VII ascended the throne, she shared with that illustrious monarch the arduous duties of sovereignty.

"Not only as a Queen of a mighty Empire, but as a wife and mother in an exemplary happy English home, she exemplified the true meaning of that great English word 'Duty.'"
In the persons of Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra and Queen Mary we have had an example set in the highest ideals of Christian home life for which we as members of the British Empire should feel profoundly thankful.

"Her work in establishing and maintaining the hospitals and great charitable institutions can hardly be estimated. Here, too, she graced her position as first lady of the Empire, and crippled children, stricken soldiers and sailors, the sick, the weak, the maimed, throughout the wide Empire might well rise and bless the name of Alexandra."

The hymns sung during the service were of an appropriate nature, and prayers were offered for the Royal Family.

First United Church

At the morning and evening services at the First United Church, the Rev. W. G. Wilson offered special prayers for the members of the Royal Family, and prayers of thanksgiving for the life of the Queen Mother.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church prayers were offered by the Rev. Dr. W. Leslie Clay, and the morning service was closed with the Dead March from "Baul."

fire which destroyed the Mount Ta-of the company. Crossed electric wires are thought to have been responsible.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The grey cloth coat is very smart, either trimmed with fur or left untrimmed.

This straight-line model above is cut on generous lines, so that it wraps well about the figure. It needs no trimming because of the decorative quality of the fabric, which combines a soft grey with grey of deeper tint.

A tiny felt hat of the lighter grey complements a very smart outfit.

Musical Recital Is Greatly Enjoyed

Miss Ada Wise, Miss Jessie Carter and Mr. G. Jennings Burnett Give Programme

A rare musical treat was afforded the large assembly at St. John's Church last evening, when a most delightful organ, song and violin recital was given, the object of which was to give to the many friends of Miss Ada Wise and Miss Jessie Carter the opportunity of hearing them in recital before they leave for Portland, Ore.

The opening number of the programme was the "Overture in C Minor" by Holstein, played by Mr. G. Jennings Burnett, reminiscent of the recent visit of the famous blind organist. This was followed by a solo, "Open Unto Us" (Costa), beautifully sung by Miss Ada Wise. Her other numbers were "Wild Verdure Clad" from "Creation" (Haydn), and the well-known "O Divine Redeemer" (Gounod), both of which were distinguished by true devotion and feeling and that warm quality of tone which won for her distinction in the Provincial Musical Festival last Spring.

Miss Jessie Carter, violinist, gave two exquisite selections, "Kol Nidrei," an ancient Hebrew melody by Max Bruch, and Beethoven's "Romance." The great feeling and charm, Miss Carter and Miss Wise, both gold medalists, will be greatly missed in Victoria musical circles.

A concluding number of the programme was sung by Miss Ada Wise, "Ho, Every One That Thirsteth," arranged by Jennings Burnett, with violin obligato by Miss Jessie Carter.

Mr. G. Jennings Burnett brought his usual sincerity of feeling to the playing of his several selections, which included in addition to the Holstein number, two of his own composition, the haunting Schubert "Unfinished Symphony," and Gounod's "March," by request.

Conference Spirit One of Good Will

Mr. H. Charlesworth Describes Great Educational Gathering Attended in Edinburgh

A most interesting resume of the great International Conference on Education, held last July in Edinburgh, was given by Mr. H. Charlesworth last evening at a meeting held at Victoria University Women's Club. Coupled with the thanks expressed by the chairwoman, Mrs. Hyndman, at the close of the meeting, were congratulations to Mr. Charlesworth on his election as one of the three vice-presidents of the important organization whose sessions he had attended as one of Canada's representatives.

Mr. Charlesworth gave his audience an admirable idea not only of the organization and conduct of the great conference, but also of its temperamental and educational institutions of Scotland, under whose auspices the meeting assembled in Edinburgh, he gave much credit for the smoothness of the arrangements and excellent accommodation, and to the spirit of organization as a whole he credited the happy results of the conference.

"The proceedings were not without their difficult and sometimes humorous moments, but I can honestly say that while this second conference was viewed with some misgivings by several of the leaders, it demonstrated beyond question that it is a definite international movement for the promotion of good will among the various nations of the earth," reported Mr. Charlesworth.

Forty-seven nations and 220 different organizations were represented in the 1,600 delegates. Not only educationists were present, although the membership was primarily agreed that the schools could do almost more than any other organization, to promote the idea of good-will among all nations, as the children in nearly all countries had come under educational influence. Mr. Charlesworth disabused the minds of any who might entertain the idea that the Federation was a strictly pacifist organization. They would have lost much of their support at the outset had they organized on this basis, as many people, while keenly anxious for peace, would not lend themselves consistently to anything so visionary as a "No War" programme.

Mr. Charlesworth spoke in glowing terms of the opening session of the conference, when speeches of great eloquence had been delivered by Sir John Gilmour, Secretary for Scotland; Rt. Hon. Sir William L. Sleigh, Lord Provost of Edinburgh; Sir J. Alfred Ewing, Principal of Edinburgh University; Rt. Hon. William Adamson, Ex-Secretary for Scotland; Councillor P. H. Allan, chairman of the Education Authority of Edinburgh; and Miss Mary Tweedie, president of the Educational Institute of Scotland. Responses to these addresses of welcome, delivered by representatives of the various nations, had been equally striking, and for the most part the discussions in the various group meetings had been carried on in similar spirit. With a single exception, all through the conference the addresses had been delivered in English.

Are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

When you feel irritable, cranky and downhearted, you can easily blame the liver, for there is no organ in the human body which so quickly throws the system out of sorts as a torpid, sluggish liver. You do not need to be in the blues long, if you know about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for by their direct action on the liver they relieve promptly and prove lastingly beneficial.

Once the liver is right the bowels function regularly and the whole digestive system resumes its work. You feel fine and take a delight in telling others of the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This is why this favorite prescription of Dr. Chase is so popular in every store where medicines are sold.

In his survey of the proceedings Mr. Charlesworth showed how much tact and diplomacy had done to bring about compromise in some rather delicate situations and the week's proceedings had broken up in a fine spirit of good will.

The object of repealing the curfew bell clause is so that parents allowing their children to run abroad late at night may be proceeded against. At present the clause is not effective, as it is necessary to prove that a curfew bell was rung.

ANGUS STEWART, another travelling companion, captain in the London Scottish.
CRISTINA, lady-in-wait of Count Poldy, who acts as servant at La Solitude. She tells Lily that there will be a guest for dinner.

MR. PONTING. He arrives, to explain that he cannot stay for dinner. The Count and Countess seem annoyed, and persuade him to stay on an excuse. Lily, the Countess to give Lily a lovely little antique box he has bought from an old woman at the Casino at Monte Carlo, but she refuses not wishing to accept such a valuable gift from him. That night Lily hears a commotion outside her door. Going into Cristiana's room, she finds her bed unmade in a great hurry. She goes into the hall and sees Mr. Ponting walking down the hall a week later, Lily comes on the body of Mr. Ponting. She hurries to Mr. Poldy and he takes her to the chief of police to tell her story. The Countess is angry because Lily went out to Mr. Poldy.

CHAPTER XIV

Beppo Arrives

Lily got up from her simple luncheon with the agreeable knowledge that she was free to do exactly what she liked for the next three hours. She remembered that Uncle Tom had ordered a number of picture papers to be sent out from England each week, and that the first big batch had arrived this morning.

Gathering the heavy, rolled-up parcels together, she went out of doors, and sat down in one of the comfortable wicker chairs which had been her first gift to the Count and Countess.

She had been reading for rather over an hour when there broke across the intense, brooding quietude of the early afternoon the hoof of a motor. It was only one o'clock—Beppo's train would not be in for a long time. But Captain Stuart had said something—when they had bidden each other good-bye yesterday—about their meeting again today.

Lily stood up and stepped down onto the lawn, quite unconscious of the eager, welcoming, happy look on her face.

All at once there emerged from the path leading up through the orange grove a tall, dark, young man, wearing white flannels and a straw hat. For a moment she stood looking at him, deep disappointment, for it was not Captain Stuart—a moment later she told herself that it was, it must be, Beppo Poldy.

He took off his smart straw hat with a graceful gesture, and, speaking in remarkably good English, though with a strong foreign accent, he exclaimed: "Hello! I the honor to greet Miss Fairfield!"

He held out his hand and fixed on her a pair of brilliant, penetrating eyes.

Count Beppo had all his mother's good points; her tall, upright figure, her clear-cut features, and her one-time thick, curling hair. From his plain, shaven forehead he had inherited that indefinable look of race which generally, though not always by any means, implies in its possessor a good pedigree. He also possessed what is in most countries a rare gift—that is, a most beautiful speaking voice.

They stood talking together for a few moments while Count Beppo explained in his full, caressing voice how he had always longer to meet her. He had never since his mother had told him of her many delightful qualities, when he was still a boy, years ago, after the Countess had paid her memorable visit to England.

"And now," he said at last, "I suppose I must go in and greet my papa and mamma—or are they having a siesta? If yes, perhaps I may linger in Capus yet a little longer," and he smiled down into Lily's pretty face.

"Didn't they meet you?" she exclaimed. "They were expecting you by the two o'clock train."

Her companion laughed. "I gave them what you in England call 'the slip.' I arrived at Monte Carlo yesterday. I have put up at the Hidalgo Hotel. It is very select and comfortable."

Lily remembered the hours she and Cristina had spent in making what was evidently the real spare room at La Solitude pleasant and habitable from the point of view of a highly civilized young man. Also, it must be confessed, that she felt a little disappointed.

"I suppose some letter you wrote was lost in the post. I know that your mother thought you were going to stay here."

"You know what mamma is like," he went on confidentially. "If I had told her that I was going to an hotel, she would have been endless discussions and long letters—for my dear mamma is a great letter-writer."

Lily felt suddenly revolted by Beppo's indifference to the disappointment he had inflicted on his father and mother.

"I think you ought to go down into the town now," she said firmly, "and try to find them. It'll be a dreadful blow to them if they go to the station and don't find you."

"I'll tell you what I'll do—I'll send down Cristina."

And even as he spoke her name the old waiting woman appeared at the open drawing-room window. Joy flashed into her face, and a moment later his arms were round her neck, and he was kissing her affectionately.

With one arm still round Cristina's shoulders, he turned to the girl and smiled, not a trace of embarrassment on his handsome face.

"Cristina is my second mamma," he exclaimed. "She is my darling, kind nurse—as kind to me as the nurse in your Shakespeare's beautiful tragedy, 'Romeo and Juliet' was to her sweet girl."

To Lily's surprise Cristina made no objection about going to find the Countess. As she turned away Beppo called after her: "Cristina! You might go to the Hidalgo Hotel before finding my parents. Get the first floor valet—he's a very decent fellow, an Italian—to give you my dress clothes."

The young Count had plenty to say for himself; also he managed to convey how much he admired her—Lily. At once he had claimed relationship. Soon he called her "my pretty cousin," and instructed her to call him "Beppo."

He also told her, which amused her, that he and his mother always talked English when they were "talking secrets." "We shan't be able to do that now," he said laughing.

Then they heard the sound of wheels on the little clearing below. Lily got up from her wicker chair and, to her surprise, Beppo took her hand as if to help her, and then she stood up and stepped down onto the lawn, quite unconscious of the eager, welcoming, happy look on her face.

The public meeting of the Navy League of Canada, which is to be addressed by Mr. Sam Harris, the Dominion president of that body, at the Empress Hotel ballroom tonight, at 8:30 o'clock, will have as an extra musical attraction the International Quartette, which has kindly offered to render some selections. This quartette comprises four fine Victoria vocalists, Messrs. J. W. Davis, W. Jacques, George Petch and Percy Edmunds.

The Boys' Naval Brigade Band, under Mr. A. Hodgkins, has prepared special numbers for the occasion.

This is the first opportunity that Mr. Harris has had of addressing a Victoria audience since his last visit here, eighteen months ago, and he will review the program of the Navy League work throughout Canada. It was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Harris that the Reparations Committee, which met in this city a few weeks ago to hear the claims of merchant seamen and others who had suffered war losses without compensation, was formed.

The agricultural unions of England, Scotland and Wales, have paid the levy, but in two Scottish unions with a membership of 13,000 over 4,000 have contracted out of paying it.

Commons and Lords Pass Sympathy Votes

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The love which the country here for Queen Mother Alexandra, and the sympathy felt for her son in his bereavement were recorded in addresses to the King, adopted by the House of Commons and the House of Lords this evening.

In the Lower House the motion was introduced by Premier Baldwin, and the House passed it by rising and standing in silence.

Mr. Baldwin, as Prime Minister, and Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Lloyd George as leaders of the Opposition, paid tributes to the dead Queen.

Similar speeches were made in the House of Lords, where there was a large attendance of the peers.

St. Pats Score First Blood In Series Against Cougars

World's Champions Lost at Toronto by Four Goals to Three—Victoria's Hockey Team Stages Whirlwind Finish, But Finds Irishmen Too Strong

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—St. Patrick's, of Toronto, took the world's championship trophy tonight by a score of four to three. The game was fast, especially in the last period, when the Cougars threw everything they had into a whirlwind finish, only to find that the Irish were as strong, or stronger, than they. The game was clean, St. Patrick's having three minor penalties to the Cougars' two.

The game was played under eastern rules and was as close as the score indicates. Roach, for St. Pats, stopped twenty-eight shots and Holmes, of Victoria, handled twenty-six. For so early in the season, the players showed good conditioning and combined well.

The First Tally
Cougars netted the first tally on a fine combination play. Fredrickson scoring after going down the ice with Hart. The husky centre went so fast that he tripped over a goal post after catching a rebound and slipping the rubber past Roach. Following their advantage Victoria changed players frequently and kept the game speeded up.

There was no further score in this period, although St. Patrick's attacked Holmes frequently. Play opened up slowly in the third period. Dye went up and again made Holmes work. Fredrickson and Hart combined and Fredrickson scored two minutes after the period opened. Dye stick-handled through the Victorians, around the defence and scored. Combination by Hart and Fredrickson resulted in the latter going in for a rebound and scoring. Roach was prone on the ice as the Victorians shoved in the rubber.

With the hours tied, both teams quickened the pace and some brilliant hockey resulted.

Anderson drew a big ovation from the crowd when he staged some fine stick-handling in the centre of the rink with five St. Patrick's after him. Corbeau was penalized for the second time for butting Oatman.

Roach had a narrow escape when the whole Victoria team rushed in, and in the lunge Roach lost his stick, but saved.

Five-Man Defence
St. Patrick's were playing a five-man defensive, and were holding the furious attack of the Cougars. On a sudden attack Dye scored his third goal of the night from a scrimmage in front of the Cougar net.

In the dying moments of the game Holway was penalized for holding.

The Line-Up
St. Patrick's Position: Victoria

First Hockey Victory Goes To Rosebuds of Portland

Vancouver Maroons Defeated on Own Ice by Three Goals to Two—Visitors Show Better Style—McCusker Knocked Out by Puck in Jaw

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—Taking Vancouver Maroons into camp by a margin of one goal, Portland Rosebuds won the opening game of the Western Canada Hockey League season here tonight. The final score was 3 to 2.

The game was a fair exhibition of hockey for so early in the season. The Rosebuds displayed better style than their opponents and deserved the win. A crowd of 7,500 fans sat in on the play. In the first period Portland gathered two goals, the home men evened up in the second stanza, but the whirlwind three-man rushes of the invaders turned the tide for the odd goal, although Lady Luck was with McCusker in the Portland goal for a considerable time in the last period. That individual, however, played one of the best games of his career despite the fact that he was knocked out by a bullet shot on the jaw from Mackay in the second period.

Combination Tells
Combination was the deciding factor in the game and although the Vancouver team offered several threatening rush efforts they were checked very hard. Five penalties were handed out for slashing and tripping, four of which went to Portland players.

The first period opened with Portland giving three men on the attack and giving Lehman in goal a hot time. In the initial cante the visitors directed almost twenty shots at Lehman, while McCusker was called upon about half that number of times. Dick Irvin opened the scoring in twelve minutes after Lehman had baited out Traub's shot. He repeated six minutes after, with only the goal tender in front, he whipped in another counter.

More aggressiveness marked the opening of the second period. Mickey Mackay stickhandled his way through for a shot, but the puck bounced off McCusker's pads. He again got an opportunity, but was high.

McCusker Injured
McCusker was injured and was off the ice for several minutes. On his return he misjudged another of Mackay's shots and Vancouver's first tally was recorded. Play was fast and the puck travelled up and down ice until Boucher and Boucher formed a combination that could not be beaten, a hard shot from Boucher sagging the net.

Latent hockey marked the opening of the final round. Dorsey was working hard for the Rosebuds and soon after missing the nets landed one between the posts for the deciding goal of the game.

Summary
First Period—1, Portland, Irvin, 12:20; 2, Portland, Irvin, 6:36.

Second Period—3, Vancouver, Mackay, 2:45; 4, Vancouver, Boucher from Mackay, 16:35.

Third Period—5, Portland, Dorsey, 8:15.
Referee—Mickey Ion.

Penalties
First Period—Dutkowski, 2 min.
Second Period—Townsend, 2 min.; Mackay, 2 min.; Dutkowski, 2 min.; Trapp, 2 min.

Third Period—None.
Line-Up
Vancouver Position: Portland
Lehman, Goal; McCusker, Defence; Moran, Defence; Traub, Forward; Dutkowski, Forward; Boucher, Forward; Irvin, Reserve; Townsend, Reserve; McCormick, Reserve; McVeigh, Reserve; Dorsey, Reserve.

Duncan Basketball Teams Win in Two Games With Victorians
DUNCAN, Nov. 23.—Basketball in Duncan got under a whirlwind start in the first outside game of the season, which was staged in the Agricultural Hall here last night, by scoring dual honors. The Duncan girls defeated the Axioms, of Victoria, by a score of 14 to 5, while in a close and exciting game the Duncan seniors defeated the Falcons, of Victoria, 24 to 20.

The brand of ball dished out was more like mid-season play, and was far above what is generally seen in opening games. Both games were fast and exciting throughout, and some excellent passing and combination were worked in.

In the girls' game the Duncan girls opened the scoring, and they carried a safe lead throughout the match. At half-time the score stood: Duncan, 6; Victoria, 1. Both teams seemed to have some particularly hard luck in their attempts at locating the basket.

In the boys' game the locals were without Dr. French and Albert Dirome, but in an exceptionally exciting game they carried off with top honors. Duncan opened the scoring, and the first part of the first half they got away to a good start; then the visitors came on with a whirlwind rush, and at half-time the score stood 15 all. In the opening part of the second half it was a ding-dong battle, and the score tied at 20 all. Then the local boys took things in their hands and ran in four field shots, giving them a lead of 28 to 20 when the whistle sounded for time.

Evans handled the whistle for both games.
The teams lined up as follows:
Duncan Girls—Misses Ina Cantley, Beal, Campbell, Brien, Beat, Anna Lomas, Beverly Brien and Ivy Arthur, spare.

Axioms, Victoria—Misses Hilda Ryan, Kathleen Forbes, Minnie Briggs, Margaret Wilson, Dorothy Watson, and Fay Gay, spare.
Duncan Seniors—Doc Olson, Albert Evans, Rupert McDonald, J. Dirome, Douglas Tait, and G. Dirome and L. Brookbank, spares.
Falcons, Victoria—Jack McKenna, Bud Hocking, Doug Robertson, Bill Murray, Joe Ross and Bob Whyte.

A big crowd witnessed the games. The players were entertained to supper, and dancing followed. Mr. Schofield's orchestra supplying the music.

Fielding Booked Up With Jackie Neuman

BILLY Davies received an offer yesterday from George Harris and Jack Allen, the Vancouver boxing promoters, for Tommy Fielding to fight four rounds with Jackie Neuman (who on December 2, Jackie, it will be remembered, beat Danny Edwards here when they met some time ago. He is a classy boxer, and the offer to Tommy Fielding shows that the Mainland promoters consider the local boy capable of holding his own in good company.

C.P.R. Basketball Team to Enter B.C. Championship

The C.P.R. basketball team will be one of the City League teams to enter the B.C.A.B.B.A. through the league, for the senior B.C. championship play-off series. The league will support the winning team through the B.C. series, while the B.C.A.B.B.A. will support the winning team through the Dominion series.

The C.P.R. employees interested in the sport are supporting the team locally, and feel that their strong aggregation of players will represent Victoria in the B.C. series and possibly the Dominion. The New Westminster Adanacs are out for the same purpose, and the local C.P.R. boys are anxious to get after their scalps, more so, in particular, on account of some of the Fraser Cafe baseball toasters being on the line-up. It will be remembered that the Fraser Cafe beat out the C.P.R. in the baseball final.

The team is composed of Vernot Jones, Stan Moore and Jack Brindley, the new members being Bill Passmore, Tommy Weather and Ted Dunn, of last year's Outlaws. Intermediate A city champions, who won from the Falcons in the final. The C.P.R. girls, under the management of T. de Macedo, are playing senior in the City League this year. Their first game will be Monday night, at the Armories, against the Telephone girls. Players are E. Dinale, G. Jones, M. Wilson, M. Matton, R. Bethel, K. Slavin.

Colwood Bogey Winners

In the ladies' bogey competition played at the Colwood Golf and Country Club yesterday, the winners were, in A class, Miss Hayward, four down; and in B class, Miss Vivian Matoon, three down.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old Un"

Tonight's the night when the Western Hockey League gets into action for another Winter's campaign.

The ROSEBUDS (of Portland) are due to make their come-back in the Vancouver Arena against the MAROONS (Vancouver).

The "Old Un" doesn't quite remember how long it is since the Rosebuds held a franchise in this league, but what sticks most in his recollection of their last appearance in Victoria is the ice cut (and not appropriate that) by one "MOORE" JOHNSON on the Portland side.

"The Moose" was wearing a sort of American footballer's helmet just to save a broken jaw, which was one of the few minor injuries which he had gathered in the season's play.

We haven't heard much of this old player lately, but time was when he was a power on the ice (not to mention in the box-office).

The "Old Un" thinks of JOHNSON somewhat as the BARE RUTH of hockey. Ruth was not the finest of all backcheckers, neither was Johnson the finest of all hockey players, but for "getting a hand" from the "fans" and pulling off the stuff which gave the thrills, they were both rather hard to beat in their own lines.

And "The Moose" figured as the star performer in that record-breaking match, the one and only match in which sixty full minutes of overtime were played, and then, by agreement, the match was called a draw—the first drawn pro hockey match ever played.

When the men were played right out to a finish and could at the last hardly stand up on their skates let alone send in any shot hot enough to get by the goalkeeper.

Johnson was one of the VICTORIA ARISTOCRATS then. (We were tonier in those days. Now we call ourselves Cougars and show our claws to some purpose.) And the match, if we remember right, was his benefit before his retirement.

Was ever a player so popular with the kids? And have ever the raffers of the old arena rung again as they did that night when the kids were all his guests, and none of us went home until midnight, or longer after if we had to try and write the story?

Another crop of ROSEBUDS will have blossomed since last PORTLAND sent any over here, and no doubt they will be just as thorny a bunch to handle.

Referees May Work Mid-Week

B.C.F.A. Will Allow Them to Officiate at the Wednesday League Games Here

The main business done at the meeting held here on Sunday of the British Columbia Football Association was to grant permission for Victoria referees to officiate at Wednesday League games. The Wednesday League is not affiliated with the B.C.F.A. and has been referred to as an "outlaw league."

The referees were, therefore, not quite sure of their standing in the matter and asked for instructions. The B.C.F.A. decided that, although the Wednesday League was not affiliated with them, they could nevertheless do what they could to lend them a helping hand, and the referees were therefore informed that they might officiate at the mid-week games in Victoria.

No decision was arrived at as to the playing of a match on New Year's Day between the British Columbia team and an amateur Washington team. The matter will be reconsidered later. The B.C.F.A. will hold a general meeting in Nanaimo on December 19 to discuss proposed amendments to the constitution.

Three new clubs came into the fold, one from Abbotsford and two from New Westminster.

Falcons Strong for International Game

Provincial Basketball Champions Will Be at Top Form for Seattle Spaldings

There's going to be some basketball game Saturday evening when the Normal School girls clash with the Fideles, champions of B.C. for 1924-5. In the preliminary game that will precede the big international game between the Seattle Spaldings and the Victoria Falcons, the champs are going like a "million" this year and are nicely on their way to another championship and will be out to show the local fans just how good they really are.

They have practically the same line-up as they had two years ago when they won both the open and the Sunday School B.C. championships. Jeannette McQueen once more occupies the centre position, while Isabelle Crawford and Beth Campbell support her on the forward line. Iris Philbrook, Boga Macmurchie and M. Breckenridge are doing the heavy work at guard and are surely making a fine job of it.

Those who journeyed to the Armories last Friday evening were rewarded by seeing the Normal quintette in action. The students flashed the Normal colors and after the first period they simply walked away from the fast-stepping College five for a 14-6 victory. It has been a moon since the budding teachers have lowered the blue and gold colors and are feeling highly elated over their early achievement, so that the fans can expect a fast, snappy game when they meet the First Church girls.

However, on Saturday, the Normals expect to field an even stronger team than they had out last Friday. Beatrix Cloughie will do the jumping at centre, while Audrey Jost and Lola Worthington will complete the forward line. Dorothy Williams and playing senior in the City League this year. Their first game will be Monday night, at the Armories, against the Telephone girls. Players are E. Dinale, G. Jones, M. Wilson, M. Matton, R. Bethel, K. Slavin.

Harvard Ranney Wins
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Willard I. Tibbotts, of Harvard, won the intercollegiate variety cross-country championship today in record time of thirty minutes and thirty-four seconds for the six-mile chase.

Cougars Increasing in Southern District of Vancouver Island

Dad Jones, the well-known cougar hunter, is of the opinion that the increase in the number of does and fawns on the southern end of the island is responsible for the attraction of cougars lately to this district. On Sunday last, George Saul and Jimmie Penderay saw a full-grown cougar between Bull Mountain and Mount Sheppard which was dragging a fawn to its lair. Saul shot it. A week previously, Billy Peden saw two on Empress Mountain, but was unable to bag either, and on the same day, Bert Chislett had a shot at one near Loon Lake.

When King George and Queen Mary are motoring through London after dark their car has a powerful blue light shining from the canopy over the chauffeur's seat. The King's car also have no number.

Scores Brilliant Victory Over Lumbermen for Second Surprise of Evening at Armories

The C.P.R. senior girls' basketball team exceeded all expectations last night at the Armories when they defeated the Telephone girls by 14-10. The "hello girls" went into the game, favorites by virtue of their past performances, but the combination and shooting of their opponents proved to be their downfall. The C.P.R. opened fast, and before anyone knew it, Kathie Slavin had netted the ball for the first score of the game. Telephone tied the score on Cathie Robertson's fine basket, and before half-time sounded these two players repeated their performance, making the score at half-time four all. Isobel Crawford put her team in the lead shortly after the opening of the second stanza, but K. Slavin found the range of the basket and soon began to pot the ball from all angles. Before time sounded she had a grand total of twelve points to her credit. Isobel Crawford, who usually gathers a number of baskets each game, was closely watched and only managed to net the ball once. All the C.P.R. girls played very well together, and showed good team-work. On the other hand the Telephone team depended a little too much on individual play, which was always smothered by their opponents. At the end of the game the Ceepeers had a nice lead of four points, the score being 14-10 in their favor. Farris refereed and the teams were: C.P.R.—K. Slavin (12), E. Dinsdale (2), M. Motlon, R. Bethell, M. Wilson and D. Watson. Telephone—L. Crawford (2), C. Robertson, C. Laird (2), S. McGill and J. McDonald.

Another Surprise
Another surprise was the defeat of the C.P.R. at the hands of the Navy in the C division. The lads had the best of the game right from the start, and at the interval were leading, 18-4. They went further in the lead in the second half, and when the whistle sounded for time the score was: Navy, 24; C.P.R., 9. Bowds refereed, and the teams were: Navy—Barker, Burdon, Barr, Orr, Turner, Dickinson, sweatman. C.P.R.—McFlorrie, Newell, Why-

ker, Emery, Hook, Storey, Backus, Reid and Duncan.

Cedar Hill and the Capitols had a close game, the former winning out by two points, the score being 14-12 in their favor. At half-time the Capitols were on the long end of a 7-6 score, but they were unable to hold their lead in the final period. Tommy De Macedo refereed, and the teams were: Cedar Hill—Wilson, McNichols, McRae, Price, Vickers and Price. Capitols—McCoy, Hoie, Holman, Easier, Turner and Moutien.

Libel Action Started By Hockey Association

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—The trial commenced here today of the action for $45,000 damages commenced against the Citizen Publishing Co. by the Ottawa Hockey Association, Limited, which alleges that an editorial which appeared in The Citizen last March was libelous and published with malice and intent to injure.

R. R. Robertson, K.C. of Toronto, counsel for the plaintiffs, explained that the gist of the whole complaint which the Ottawa Hockey Association had to make against The Citizen's editorial was that it had suggested that professional hockey games were not genuinely contested and the winner was known beforehand.

Don't Believe
Your teeth are naturally "off color"

You can give them dazzling whiteness in a few days and firm your gums simply by removing the dingy film that clouds them this NEW way

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off-color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, even given dazzling whiteness.

In a few days you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combuster, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

Mr. G. W. Dean Is President

Mr. H. G. Scott, of Port Washington, Gives Report of Last Year's Activities

SALT SPRING ISLAND, Nov. 23.—The sixth annual meeting of the Gulf Islands Board of Trade, postponed from October 9, was held in Mahon Hall, Ganges, with members in attendance from Salt Spring and Pender Islands.

Mr. H. G. Scott, of Port Washington, the retiring president, gave a very optimistic report on the year's work and stated that substantial progress had been made with several matters dealt with at the council. The outstanding business dealt with at the meeting was the resolution dealing with district representation on the council, and after careful consideration it was unanimously resolved to have this based on the actual membership, allowing one council member to every ten or fraction of ten members from each island.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President: G. W. Dean, Ganges.
Vice-president: S. Percival, Port Washington.
Council members: W. M. Mout, A. J. Smith, Ganges; L. F. Chaplin, Vancouver Bay, Salt Spring Island; J. C. Lang, North Salt Spring Island; J. J. Shaw, Pender Island; H. J. Scott, J. S. Stiggins, Port Washington; R. S. W. Corbett, Pender Island; Paul Scoones, Galiano Island; D. Macfadon, Saturna Island.

Owing to the fact that the retiring secretary, W. M. Mout, was unable to continue in that office, the matter of appointing a secretary was left with the council members for Salt Spring Island.

The Guides went through their usual games and exercises which showed credit to the officers for the way they had been trained.

At the close of the exercises they sang their company songs and closed with the singing of the National Anthem, after which the mothers were entertained to tea.

In addition to the mothers, Mrs. R. H. Gale, district commissioner of the Guides, was present, also the members of the committee.

Black-tipped Lacquer-red

—the color Men Choose when they buy their own Pens

Handsome to carry—Hard to mislay

Ladies, please take note:

IT'S a great deal easier to select a pen for a man than, for instance, a necktie. For men's ideas in neckwear are vastly dissimilar, but in pens their choice is almost unanimous.

Note what the great majority carries—the black-tipped lacquer-red—the patented Parker Duofold color combination that flashes the eye a happy reminder if a man starts to leave his pen behind.

Of course the 25-year smooth-gliding point also has much to do with men's preference for the Parker Duofold. Likewise the manly Hand-size Grip, Over-size Ink Capacity, Free-Swinging Balance, and Invisible Filler—out of harm's way.

Whatever it is that men most prize in the Parker, of one thing the ladies may be sure—Black-tipped Lacquer-red is a man's own choice of color, just as Parker Duofold is his choice of pens.

Good pen counters wouldn't be without it—stop at the nearest.

Many Prominent Persons Aboard

Taking out a record consignment of Christmas mail, more than 400 passengers and a capacity cargo, the Admiral Oriental liner President McKinley, Captain Alvin O. Luntie commanding, sailed from Victoria at 7:30 o'clock last night, bound for Yokohama and other Oriental ports.

The vessel arrived here at 4 p.m. from Seattle, and after loading a small consignment of cargo and taking on 100 passengers and several parcels of Victoria and Vancouver mail, cleared for the Far East.

The McKinley took out a full cargo of canned salmon, machinery, automobiles, tobacco, fruits, vegetables and other freight, while in the ship's mailroom were 10,000 sacks of parcels and letters.

Jefferson Is Bringing Big Orange Cargo

Admiral Oriental Liner Due Wednesday Afternoon—Will Discharge 800 Tons of Freight Here

More Than 250 People on Board

Delayed by bad weather in mid-Pacific the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson is not expected to make William Head quarantine station until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to advices received at the local office. This will mean that the vessel will dock at the Outer Wharf about 2:30 o'clock that afternoon.

In this event the vessel will put clear from Victoria for Seattle until late at night, as the Jefferson has an exceptionally heavy cargo for discharge here. Nearly 800 tons of freight, including 700 tons of Japanese oranges, will be discharged at this port, in addition to nearly one hundred sacks of mail.

The Jefferson has a heavy cargo of oranges for discharge here. She has 4,000 tons of general freight to be put down at Tacoma and Seattle. Part of this cargo includes 2,500 bales of silk and large shipments of oranges for overland delivery.

The passenger list total more than 250. Of this number 150 are steamer passengers; seven first class and forty stowage passengers will disembark here.

Herring Season Reaches Peak on Barkley Sound

Princess Ena Makes Special Trip to Bring in Cargo From Fisheries—Christmas Oranges Coming

Coast Service Activities

The herring season on the West Coast is proving very encouraging, and the Princess Ena, which was sent to collect herring shipments on Barkley Sound, made a large quantity of cargo awaiting her arrival. This herring will be shipped principally to Japan.

Arrangements are being made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to handle a large quantity of oranges from the Orient for the Christmas trade, which will arrive from Japan tomorrow by the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson.

The Princess Ena has arrived with 400 bales of pulp from the Pacific Mills for local use.

The Princess Charlotte made a special call at the Outer Wharf Sunday before Christmas, and will be available for business again.

The new propeller shaft for the Princess Victoria is en route by rail, and when it has been placed in position after arrival at the end of the week, the Victoria will be available for business again.

Overhaul of the machinery of the Princesses Kathleen and Marguerite is being made while the big ships are laid up in harbor here, after their first season's work.

Seamen Absenting Themselves From Ship Are Arrested

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23.—Thirty-nine members of the crew of the steamer Northumberland were arrested on charges of absenting themselves from the ship without leave.

Three of the number gave their undertaking in court here today that they would return to work, and were allowed to go free. The others refused to give a similar undertaking, and were sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment.

Yokohama Maru Due Tomorrow From Far East

Will Make William Head at 7 o'clock Wednesday Night—Baseball Team Believed to Be on Board

Vessel Has Heavy Cargo

Running true to schedule despite stormy weather in mid-Pacific, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru is due to reach William Head quarantine station at 7 o'clock tomorrow night, according to wireless advices received by Mr. A. H. Hebb, local representative, from Captain Shibutani.

The Yokohama Maru is bringing a large shipment of Christmas supplies from the Orient, including Japanese toys, crystallized ginger, Japanese oranges, lily bulbs, rattan and Oriental rugs. The silk shipment amounts to 3,000 bales valued at approximately $4,000,000, while contained in the ship's deep and peak tanks is a large quantity of vegetable oil.

Some 120 tons of cargo will be discharged at Victoria in addition to seventy bales of mail. Only two third class passengers will disembark here.

For Seattle there are sixteen first class and eleven stowage passengers. It is understood that the sixteen first class passengers comprise the Illinois University baseball team which has been on a tour of Japan.

Perfect lather Perfect shave

Williams Shaving Cream is preferred by particular men because it provides the perfect lather that makes the perfect shave possible. The perfect shave means more than just cutting off the protruding beard—it must be done quickly, easily, comfortably—the skin must be left soft, cool, refreshed—there must be no irritating after effect—no drawn parched feeling.

Your first tube of Williams will show the way to years of perfect shaves no matter how sensitive your skin or how tough your beard.

Nearly a century of knowing how.

Ss. Sushierico Is in Trouble

S.O.S. Calls Picked Up on Atlantic Seaboard—Ships Run Ashore

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The New York freight steamship Sushierico was aground today at Punta de Matanzas, Cuba. R.O.S. calls picked up here indicate that the steamship was in communication with the naval radio station at Port au Prince, Haiti. A later wireless message picked up by the Independent Wireless Station said that boats were being dispatched from Port au Prince and Miami, Fla., to go to the aid of the Sushierico. The steamer was in a dangerous position when the last radio was received here.

The Sushierico, 1,937 tons, after a recent trip from New York left Havana for other Cuban ports. Paint wireless calls were picked up last night by various stations, but the sender could not then be identified.

Shipping Notes

Bringing a large list of passengers from California ports, the Admiral liner Emma Alexander arrived from San Francisco at 9 o'clock last night to discharge approximately 100 tons of cargo, comprising chiefly citrus fruits and nuts. Forty-eight passengers debarked here. The Emma Alexander will sail south again on Thursday at 11 p.m.

The steamer Polaric finally cleared for sea at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, after having had her cargo trimmed and repairs effected. The Polaric is bound for Shanghai with a shipment of 127,000 bushels of wheat and a heavy cargo of ore.

Persons who failed to dispatch their Christmas parcels to Australia and New Zealand, per Ss. Asmat, November 18, are advised that parcels for Australia are being dispatched from Victoria at 1:30 p.m., November 27, and parcels for Australia and New Zealand both, at 1:30 p.m., November 28, to go forward via San Francisco. Parcel mails for Shanghai, China and for Hong Kong will be closed at 6 o'clock, November 28, for dispatch per Ss. Empress of Canada, which ship will reach Shanghai, December 14, and Hong Kong, December 17.

The Victoria Whaling Corporation's whaling tender Gray is undergoing a thorough overhaul of engines, and when completed will be put on the charter market. It was announced yesterday. ## Forestry Boat Takes to Water

Vessel Named After Oliver Clark Who Died While Saving Lives of Others

The Forestry Department's cruiser Oliver Clark has been launched from Rodd Brothers' marine ways. Miss Rodd's daughter, the daughter of the late Oliver Clark, christened the vessel. Her trial trip in Gorge waters proved a big success.

The Oliver Clark bears the name of the heroic forest ranger who lost his life in a gallant attempt to save the lives of others from a devastating forest fire at Port Neville on June 25 last.

The vessel measures forty feet by nine feet six inches beam, and is propelled by a Victor sixteen-horsepower heavy-duty engine at a speed of approximately eight knots. She is equipped with a wireless installation, and provides accommodation for a crew of three. She has been built by Messrs. Rodd Brothers, and practically inaugurates their boat-building business, besides being the first vessel of the B.C. Forest Service to be built in Victoria in recent years.

"Kellogg's ALL-BRAN" has entirely relieved me of constipation," writes grateful father

The ravages of constipation can be promptly stopped. Here is signed evidence.

Mr. Hunt's case is typical of thousands of others who have found habit-forming pills and drugs of no avail in seeking permanent relief from constipation. Read this interesting letter:

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation. Before I started using ALL-BRAN I was a regular sufferer from constipation, something to be ashamed of. Now I never touch a pill. I fully recommend it to anyone who is suffering from constipation. It is a natural food which sweeps the intestine clean, stimulates digestion and normal, healthy action. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, or try the recipes given on the package. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Made in London, Canada. Served by leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by grocers.

Knights Hold Weekly Dinner

Five-Minute Impromptu Speeches Enjoyed by Members—Succession Duty Discussed

In the absence of the scheduled speaker, members of the Loyal Knights of the Round Table at their regular weekly dinner held last night in the Chamber of Commerce, were entertained by several impromptu five-minute speeches by several of their members. The subjects were drawn out of the hat and were thoroughly enjoyed.

The question of "Should Succession Duties Be Abolished," which fell to the lot of Mr. G. E. H. Johnson, came in for some enlightening remarks from Messrs. H. D. Patterson and F. E. Winslow. Mr. Patterson was of opinion that abolition of this duty would do a great deal toward attracting people of means to this Province, which, accordingly, would be instrumental in bringing capital to develop the resources of British Columbia. He believed that the amount of the tax already received would be amply offset from the increase of taxes caused through the additional capital. Mr. Winslow did not think the tax was an unjust one, but stated that he considered some of the assessments were rather high. He was of the same opinion as Mr. Patterson with regard to the additional capital which abolition of the duty would bring, and thought that it would do more to open up and develop the natural resources of the Province. He quoted instances with which he had personally come in contact, and termed some of the values appraised by the Government sometimes much lower than the actual market worth.

Other members who gave short speeches were Mr. J. H. McConnell, Col. D. McGowan, Dr. D. W. Graham, Mr. A. E. Ormond and Dr. B. C. Richards.

Gray Haired People Need Only this Clean, Colorless Liquid

Youthful Looks Quickly Return

Letters like the following tell what the clean, colorless liquid known as Kolor-Bak, is doing for gray haired men and women.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared."

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger."

Kolor-Bak is the most satisfactory substitute for the natural hair pigmentation. With its use, the hair not only takes on its former shade; it acquires a beautiful lustre and softness. Kolor-Bak also removes dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and keeps the hair from falling out.

If you are gray, ask for a bottle of Kolor-Bak. No sample of hair required—no tests to make—as this clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Your money returned instantly if not satisfactory.

Tricked Years Ago, Firemen Ask Increase

Want Pay Restored to Former Basis—Council Passes on Request to Incoming Body

Following the charge that civic firefighters had been "tricked" into accepting a ten per cent cut in salaries two years ago, the City Council last night decided to recommend to the incoming council that the salaries be restored to their former basis.

A letter from the local firefighters' union informed the council that the salaries of others in the city's employ had not been decreased at the time the firefighters had been persuaded to accept a cut. It was unfair that they should have been told that civic salaries would be reduced generally.

The cost of living had not been reduced, but increased, the letter stated. "The firefighters had been 'tricked' into accepting the cut. Alderman Woodward declared, by a member of the council who has promised to conclude negotiations with them.

The salaries of all employees in the civic department should be considered at the same time, said Alderman Clearhue. He was not opposed to granting the desired increase of pay to the firefighters, but he thought it unwise to consider their application separately.

It was moved that the council recommend that the incoming body that the ten per cent increase be granted. Alderman Shanks declared that it would be unwise to tie the hands of the council's successors.

That would not be accomplished by the resolution, Mayor Pender said. The motion was passed with Aldermen Shanks, Clearhue and Mara dissenting.

Highways Bill May Relieve Conditions

Speed and Activities of Motor Busses Covered in Section of Proposed Act

A section of the Highways Amendment Bill, the second reading of which was moved in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, which the minister regarded as important was, he said, that relating to the speed and activities of motor busses.

In the connection, he said, there had been a good deal of complaint from owners of motor cars and public organizations to the effect that the small cars were being driven off the road by the heavier vehicles. This was particularly the case in regard to the Malahat Road. The bill contemplated a statutory review of the time tables, weights and measurements of busses on the highways, for the purpose of checking such breaches as had been complained of.

Master Winston (to the Gallie Cock): "I say, old bird, if you go on moulting like this, what's to become of the feather that you promised for my cap?"

Owing to France's financial difficulties, exemplified in the depression of the franc, ratification of the settlement of the debt to Britain, provisionally agreed upon, may be delayed.

A definite intimation that the Government would place a toll-gate on the Fraser Canyon Road was made by the minister.

"The Fraser Canyon Road is a luxury road," remarked Dr. Sutherland, who recalled that there was a general demand for a toll-gate during the debate of the 1924 budget. The road, he said, was not in the same position as other roads, as it was primarily a tourist road, and those who used it should pay something towards the cost of its maintenance. He mentioned $5 in this respect.

The minister added that he would be glad to have an expression of opinion from the House on the question involved.

Bill of Attorney-General Opposed in the Legislature

The Attorney-General's bill, an Act to facilitate the reciprocal enforcement of judgments and awards, almost passed its second reading in the House yesterday, but its eleventh and concluding clause, dealing with its interpretation to effect its general purpose of making uniform the law of those provinces which enact it, caused considerable argument. The bill, however, passed its second reading.

Mr. C. F. Davis (Cowichan-Newcastle), declared that the clause meant nothing and could only contribute to the practice of cluttering up the statute books with a lot of verbiage. It was making a fool of the Legislature to pass such a clause, he said, and what was more, the Attorney-General knew it.

Mr. R. H. Pooley, Opposition Leader, agreed with the stand taken by the member for Cowichan-Newcastle, and said that he could not see why the Attorney-General had permitted the clause to remain in the bill. It meant nothing, he declared, and was in no way binding upon a court.

The Attorney-General maintained that the clause was the result of close study and, while it was not very vital in comparison to the other parts of the bill, he believed it should be retained.

Smithsonian Body Appeals for Funds

Institute Makes Plea for $100,000 to Carry on World Scientific Work

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—For the first time since its foundation, nearly eighty years ago, the Smithsonian Institution, whose valuable contributions to science heretofore have been financed from its endowment and special gifts, will carry an appeal direct to the American people for $100,000 to enable it to undertake many new major projects and continue its publications.

Announcement of the Institute's plans was made tonight by its board of regents, who said the money would be added to an endowment that has only doubled since 1846, when the Smithsonian Institute was organized under a trust fund of $550,000, bequeathed to the United States in 1826 by James Smithson, an English scientist, "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

The board asserted that the Institute's annual income of $65,000 had been inadequate for years.

Summer Anticipated As Usual Next Year

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—"Expert hunches," was the term used by J. Patterson, of the Meteorological Bureau, Toronto, to describe weather prophets who have predicted a Summerless year in 1926, when addressing the Royal Canadian Institute here. Mr. Patterson declared that as far as present knowledge went, no one knew what next Summer's weather would be.

Free State Border Controversy Grows

Resignation of Dr. MacNeill May Make Report From Commission Impossible

DUBLIN, Nov. 23.—The legal advisers of the Free State Government are understood to hold the opinion that the resignation of Dr. MacNeill from the Irish Boundary Commission, on which he represented the Free State, makes a report by the commission impossible.

When the judicial committee of the British Privy Council was consulted after Ulster's refusal to appoint a representative, Governor-General Healy informed the British Cabinet that the Free State ministers, while realizing that the British were entitled to take advantage of that high legal opinion, could not be regarded as committed by its findings. He cited the Anglo-Irish treaty, providing that the boundary be determined in accordance with the wishes of the inhabitants.

The Free State ministers consider that the matter is solely one between them and the British Government, which they expect to fulfill its treaty obligations.

Until the British have failed to do this, it is declared no question of referring the matter to the League of Nations can arise.

Resignation Surprises

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Up to last Friday, when he resigned from the Irish boundary commission, Dr. Roin MacNeill, the Free State delegate, had been prepared to sign the commission's findings, which already had been recorded in general, it is asserted today in a statement issued by the other members, Justice Richard Feetham, the chairman, and Joseph Fisher, the Ulster delegate.

They declare that his resignation came as a complete surprise. The general features of the boundary line were approved and recorded on the commission's minutes as long ago as October 17, the statement says, and Dr. MacNeill made perfectly clear his intention of joining them in signing.

"Since October 17," the declaration adds, "the whole work of the commission has proceeded on the basis of a definite understanding between us that our award, embodying the line agreed upon, was to be unanimous."

U.S. Legislators Will Arrive Here Thursday

Mr. Speaker Buckham, of the British Columbia Legislature, was officially advised yesterday that the members of the Washington State Legislature would arrive in Victoria, Thursday afternoon, to pay a visit to the Legislature of this Province.

Arrangements for their entertainment include a dinner to be tendered them by the Victoria Canadian Club and a motor drive around the various points of interest in the Capital City. They will be accorded seats on the floor of the Assembly Chamber during the session which very probably will be adjourned early.

Navy League of Canada Voluntarily Assumes One of War's Aftermaths

Mr. Sam Harris, Dominion President, Tells of Work Done for Dependents and Men of Mercantile Marine for Whom Government Does Nothing

Very few people, except those directly affected, realize that Canada as a nation has made no reparation in the case of men of the mercantile service who were killed or suffered disabilities, or for their dependents. It remained for some voluntary organization to take the matter in hand. The Navy League of Canada undertook the task, and today they have on their books ninety children, eighteen women and about fifteen men of the Canadian mercantile marine. Mr. Sam Harris, president of the Dominion Navy League, who is here from Toronto, recites sufficient details of these cases to show that it was absolutely imperative, in the interests of humanity, that assistance be given these cases.

Not only did common humanity demand that help be given, but it would be a blot on Canada's honor if these spendid men, who had suffered death or disablement for their country, were completely overlooked and their dependents neglected.

"No less than fifty-five cases entitled to reparations privileges were proved before the Canadian Reparations Board in Mr. Harris's time," recalled Mr. Harris in talking to a representative of The Colonist yesterday. But the whole movement came to naught as a Government undertaking, and it remained for the Navy League of Canada to assume responsibility voluntarily.

Idea of Service
Mr. Harris, who was a guest at luncheon on the C.P. Pacific yesterday, was greatly impressed with what he saw at Esquimalt.

"You have here a splendid nucleus, manned with a splendid type of men. But they are handicapped by having to work with such limited equipment," he stated.

Mr. Harris also pointed out "one injustice which the nation must rectify" to wit, the providing of pensions for men of the Canadian Navy. All ranks, other than the officers, are compelled to retire before the age of fifty, while still comparatively young men, yet they have no provision in the way of pensions. "Yet this is the Navy which even in peace time is doing a great work in making the mercantile routes safe," he added, recalling a particular instance in the Argentine, sunk while engaged in the charting of the Coast.

Bulwark of Defence
"We don't want to repeat the war. The war taught us that the Navy is a bulwark of defence, and that only by preparedness could we hope to hold our highways. The Navy League, recognizing this, was training the boys of Canada in seamanship as well as in loyalty. Victoria, he was able to comment, had one of the best Sea Cadet Corps in the country."

"In our domestic and industrial life we make provisions against accident and fire. If it is good business to do it in our private affairs, why not invest money in the same way for our national defence? We asked a free sea, uninterrupted commerce, was of special importance to such ports as Victoria and Vancouver, which were destined to be the outlet of the great Prairie grain crops. The protection of her trade routes was "up to" Canada. More money should be spent in upholding the ocean highways, but unfortunately Canada was not doing very much. The United States, on the other hand, while admittedly the late President Harding had said to his Vancouver address, believing in international peace, spent $600,000,000 annually in the upkeep of her Navy."

"If we would be secure on land, we must be supreme at sea," Mr. Harris maintains. The Navy League was striving to create in the country a "sea consciousness," unrelated to war or jingoism.

"But we are one hundred per cent in favor of being fully prepared. Canada's East and West and Middle West might not be agreed on the measure of preparedness. The Navy League had no wish to start any controversy. Its real work lay in educating the people of the necessity of some method of protection. After that it was up to the experts to tell how much navy, how much protection was required. Vice-Admiral Field has told Canada that the Motherland was not in a position to protect the trade routes. He said: 'If there is no Navy the Empire will be scrapped, and if the Empire is scrapped, Christianity and civilization will be thrown into the discard.'"

The Dependents
Once more Mr. Harris turned to the question of the dependents of the men of the mercantile marine who had been killed or crippled by war service. When the war was on everyone was called on to contribute. The men of the mercantile marine were assured that if anything befell them their dependents would be looked after.

"But there has never been a cent paid by the Government to any of the widows or orphans or disabled men," reports the Dominion president of the Navy League.

Mrs. J. Wilson, Port George, N.S., writes:—"I suffered from palpitation of the heart and fainting spells, and, at times, I could not be left alone I was so nervous."

My trouble was caused from overwork and worry, having been left alone with a large family. I had tried everything without any relief, but I know, today, that I would have been a nervous wreck but for your wonderful financing of the Navy League work. Mr. Harris drew forth some figures, which showed that Ontario, although not a maritime province, has the real spirit of the sea, as for the past five years she has practically carried the entire burden of the work of the Dominion Council of the Navy League. In the city of Toronto, which is 1,500 miles from the sea, the Navy League pays out on an average $10,000 a year in relief for dependents of men of the mercantile service.

Mr. Harris will address a public meeting tonight at the Empress.

Ratepayers to Vote Upon High School Project

Cost of Educational Structure to Esquimalt Taxpayers to Be $12,000—Election in January

Hospital Requests Grant

Esquimalt ratepayers will vote at the annual election in January on a by-law for the construction of a new high school in the district at a cost of $12,000.

The Esquimalt Council last night carried out the request of the School Board that it submit a by-law for that purpose to the electorate at the time of the annual election. The trustees informed the council that the proposed new building would cost $18,000, one third of which sum had been promised as a grant by the Provincial Department of Education. That would require the sum of $12,000 to be voted by the ratepayers.

The proposed school, if endorsed at the polls, will be built on Old Esquimalt Road, on a site nearby the present Leppin Street School. The latter school is at the present time housing the pupils who are doing high school work and formerly attended the Esquimalt High School on Esquimalt Road.

Representatives of the Victorian Order of Nurses waited upon the council, and reviewed the work that the order was carrying on. They pointed out that from July, 1924, to July, 1925, the V.O.N. had made 600 nursing visits to Esquimalt, and the fees received from the said calls only totalled $325, or a rate of only fifty-four cents per visit, which was much lower than the average rate per visit charged. They said they would be glad to receive generous consideration at the council's hands next year.

Bessie Macdonald and Constance Pomeroy and Nicol were appointed members of the 1925 court of revision of the municipal voters' list. The council will meet on Thursday, December 10, at 8 o'clock, at the Municipal Hall.

Captain George McGregor, Mr. James Forster and Dr. E. H. Pearce asked the council to make a special grant to the Jubilee Hospital. They fully outlined the reasons why they made the request. The council decided to consider the matter at its regular meeting a week from next Monday night.

Harding had said to his Vancouver address, believing in international peace, spent $600,000,000 annually in the upkeep of her Navy."

Victoria Member Inquires About Work On Songhees Area

Relief work performed by the Government on the Songhees industrial area, Victoria, was a matter about which Mr. Reginald Hayward, senior member for Victoria, filed questions in the House yesterday.

Mr. Hayward wants to know the amount of work undertaken between December 1, 1924, and March 21, 1925, and how many persons were given employment. He also asks if the Government made a check regarding the districts from which employees came, and if the men given work were employed through the Government Employment Agency, the system of distribution of unemployment at the City Hall, or at random.
